

ASK SENATE TO REFUSE TO SIGN LAUSANNE PACT

Claims Treaty Surrenders American Rights

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—An organized movement to frustrate ratification of the Lausanne treaty by the United States senate was undertaken at the Yale club today by a group of influential Americans headed by James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany and now chairman of the American committee for the independence of Armenia.

A memorandum previously signed by 100 statesmen, high army officers, financiers, church officials, editors and foreign relief workers was approved for presentation to President Coolidge, Secretary of State Hughes and individual senators before whom the treaty will come for ratification at the forthcoming session of congress.

The document charges that the state department's envoys at Lausanne sacrificed to Mustafa Kemal the rights of American citizens in Turkey and threw overboard the Armenian people whom this country was pledged to protect—in exchange for the Chester concessions to a few American business men, since transferred to alien control.

"It is morally an indefensible treaty," said the memorandum. It surrenders every American right in Turkey. It renders impossible the continuance of American educational and philanthropic enterprises in that country. It ignores our solemn pledge to Armenia.

"The economic concessions it purports to secure for a few Americans are now admitted to be of dubious value and have already been transferred into alien hands. The Turks have broken thus the promises of good behavior and their guarantees to our missionaries and to the remnants of Christians in Turkey.

All reports which have recently reached the outside world from Turkish and foreign sources show that factional armed conflicts, widespread banditry and hopeless economic chaos seriously threaten Kemal's regime, and that the task which confronts this government, in accordance to the admission of its own leaders, a truly impossible one.

"We believe that the honor of America, no less than every dictate of reason, demands that the senate reject the Lausanne treaty."

The attack on the treaty was led today by Mr. Gerard, Oscar S. Straus, former ambassador to Turkey, Captain Paxton Hibben, former Russian and Near East Relief Worker, Professor A. D. F. Hamlin of Columbia University, Professor Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard and Dr. Paul S. Leinbach of Philadelphia.

EX-GOVERNOR WALTON CLAIMS PERSECUTION BY KLAN SUPPORTERS

Makes Statement After New Indictments are Returned

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 24.—A charge that both the action of the grand jury in indicting him and his impeachment and removal from office by the state legislature is a part of a "secret conspiracy now in progress" to paralyze his arm in his fight against the Ku Klux Klan was made here tonight in a statement issued by J. C. Walton, deposed governor of Oklahoma.

The former governor also took occasion to comment on the activities of the state senate on anti-klan legislation which he proposed before being tried on impeachment charges, declaring that "no one can fail to see the cloven hoof of the invisible empire protruding from beneath the hypocritical robes of pretended innocence."

His statement was occasioned by the return of indictments against him yesterday by a district court grand jury here charging that he diverted public funds to his own use, intimidated an officer by prohibiting a meeting of a grand jury during martial law, and prevented an assembly of the state legislature. He is to be arraigned on the charges next Wednesday.

WILL ASK COOLIDGE TO GRANT C. L. CRAIG EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY

Is Under Sentence of Sixty Days in Jail for Contempt

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—President Coolidge will be asked on Monday by Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, and others, to grant executive clemency to Charles L. Craig, controller of New York City, who was sentenced to sixty days in jail for contempt of the federal district court at New York and who recently lost an appeal to the supreme court.

Meantime the sentencing of Craig became the subject of comment by a number of senators and representatives. Senator Johnson of California, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, declared the sentencing was "an outrage" and added that if the courts could take such action as this there would be an end of "boasted free speech in this country."

COLORADO WEDDING IS AFFAIR OF SPLENDOR

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(AP)—All of the pomp and splendor of a wedding in New York's "four hundred" was displayed today at the ceremony at which Miss May Walker Robinson, daughter of the richest negro in the world, became the bride of Dr. Henry Gordon Jackson of Chicago, at St. Philip's Episcopal church in Harlem. Nine thousand invitations had been sent for the wedding, going to virtually every country in the world.

Never in New York and probably not in America, has there been such magnificence at a negro wedding. Jewels worn by women guests dazzled the eyes of beholders, while sealskin and mink, with a scattering of ermine, were the modes in fur. The church ceremony with accessories was said to have cost $20,000.

DETROIT IS AWARDED NEXT BOWLING MEET

TOLEDO, Nov. 24.—Detroit was awarded the 1924 tournament of the Central States Bowling association. It was announced at the annual meeting of the organization here tonight.

Illinois was taken into the association making a five states organization. The other states are Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and Indiana. The annual tourney is now open to all A. B. C. bowlers, according to a new ruling of the officers.

Herman Mergard of Cincinnati was re-elected president.

MAYBE ANOTHER STOLEN CAR

A resident living at the West end of West Lafayette avenue reported to police early last night suspicious action of persons driving a Ford touring car. The machine was stopped under a street light near his home, while the occupants changed the numbers on the car. The citizen could plainly see the action of those under the light, but he could not identify the persons. It is thought that the car was stolen from somewhere in or near the city and the thieves were endeavoring to cover their work by putting on

THOMPSON TO BE CANDIDATE FOR NEXT PRESIDENT

State Supreme Judge Has Consented to Entry in Race

QUINCY, Ill., Nov. 24.—Judge Floyd T. Thompson, of the Illinois supreme court, will be a candidate for president on the Democratic ticket, according to word received from him here today.

The report which has been current for several weeks past that the name of Justice Floyd E. Thompson, of the Illinois supreme court would be a Democratic candidate for president before the next national convention was confirmed in a measure by a dispatch to the Wig Journal today which asked the judge if the report was true.

Justice Thompson replied: "You may say my friends are making the plans suggested." Judge Thompson some months ago said he would not be a candidate for governor, and close friends at the time hinted that he was aiming higher. He has been twice elected justice of the supreme court by large majorities in a Republican district.

BOY NOW DECLARES CONFESSION FALSE

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Juan Morales, 14 year old San Antonio newsboy, indicted in connection with the bomb tragedy here November 14, in which J. A. Barnes and his son lost their lives, today denied that he was the boy who delivered the deadly package to a railway station at San Antonio for shipment here and asserted that his admission that he was the boy who had delivered the package was false.

Morales also stated that the alleged confession which he made yesterday at Sinton was forced from him by state rangers after, the boy declared, the rangers had mistreated him.

SURVEY OF MEDICAL SCHOOLS COMPLETE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 24.—The survey of medical schools of the state undertaken to rid Missouri of alleged illegal medical practitioners was completed by Dr. Emmett P. North, president of the Missouri state board of health, and Dr. Fred C. Walte, of the Western Reserve University of Cleveland, it was announced here tonight.

The findings of the survey, it was announced, will not be made public until a report has been compiled and submitted to the state board of health for approval.

NEGRO CARETAKER OF IN MEMORIAM IS DEAD

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 24.—George Julson, 47 years old, negro caretaker for the racing stable of Carl Weidemann, of Newport, Ky., and the constant companion of In Memoriam, was found dead on a cot in the same stable which housed his charge at Churchill Downs here today.

A physician attributed death to heart disease. Julson's intimates declare he died of grief over In Memoriam's defeat and say he has been incessantly lamenting since Zev's number was hung up as the winner of the match race here last Saturday.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN CLOSE CONFERENCE

ATLANTIC, Ga., Nov. 24.—After hearing an address by Senator Underwood, Alabama, on the principles of Democracy, the third regional conference of Democratic women came to a close here today. Many of the delegates, however, were expected to remain to attend a "school of Democracy" to be held here next Monday and Tuesday.

D. Lloyd George and Asquith Reconciled

LONDON, Nov. 24. (A. P.)—What from the Englishman's viewpoint was the most important feature of the present campaign occurred tonight when a public formal reconciliation between Herbert Asquith and David Lloyd George, after about seven years' estrangement, was staged at Paisley, where the two former premiers, to every accompaniment of Liberal enthusiasm appeared to speak on the same platform in Mr. Asquith's constituency.

The end of the first week of electioneering finds the Liberal and Labor parties if anything less confident, while the conservatives are much more optimistic over their chances than they were on entering the campaign. This change of feeling is due to the now acknowledged fact that there is not the slightest chance of any agreement between the two free trade parties, Liberal and Labor for the allocation of seats to avoid split votes and a three cornered contest.

The Liberal organizers made a number of tentative overtures for a concord, which have all been rejected by the Laborites, and the more frank among the Liberal newspapers are beginning sorrowfully to envisage the possibility of a repetition of the last general election and a victory for the conservatives on a minority vote of the electorate.

GERMANY IS HAVING HARD TIME FINDING NEW CABINET LEADER

Herr Von Kardoff Chosen But Parties Fail to Agree

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Herr Von Kardoff was selected by President Ebert this afternoon to undertake the task of forming a new German ministry to take the place of the ousted Stresemann ministry. He appeared willing to undertake the work but the German Nationalists refused to cooperate with him. Thereupon he tried to form a coalition from among the Socialists and German Peoples' Party, but the German Peoples' Party declined to cooperate with the Socialists.

Herr Von Kardoff was therefore obliged to renounce the task of forming a new cabinet. Throughout the day there were conferences among the various parties and among the possibilities for the chancellorship consulted by President Ebert was the Nationalist Leader, Dr. Hertg.

It was later reported that Dr. Hertg had expressed to the president his willingness to attempt to form a cabinet.

MRS. BELMONT CLAIMS SHE WAS MISQUOTED

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, president of the National Woman's Party sailing today for Paris on the Majestic, declared she was misunderstood in her recent address in Denver and did not say or infer that women should not marry.

Mrs. Belmont said she did advise that women should be self-reliant and independent so that when they married they should retain their station.

"I approve of women going into business as the same as men," she said, "taking a business course and business education. Women should be as independent as men and able to support themselves. Marriage is a side issue."

GEORGE WASHINGTON MEMORIAL IS GOING UP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Massive foundations for the George Washington memorial auditorium are nearing completion and the walls of the structure, which will be one of the most impressive and magnificent in the national capital will soon be rising.

This memorial should not be confused with the George Washington Masonic Memorial recently started near Alexandria. The new building will stand on a site given by congress.

At this time hundreds of farmers within a radius of 25 miles of Freeport are badly in need of help in corn-picking, shredding and other work, but such employment carries no appeal apparently as there are no applications for the places.

MAN SHOTS HIS BROTHER; POSSE NOW HUNTS HIM

Both, Past Sixty, Have Grudge of Long Standing

EFFINGHAM, Ill., Nov. 24.—(AP)—A sheriff's posse planned to continue its search at daylight Sunday for Alexander Kyle, a resident of this city who late today shot and painfully wounded his brother William, while the latter was at work on his farm seven miles west of here.

The brothers, both of whom are past sixty years of age are said to have had a grievance of long standing.

POLICE HOLD THREE RADICALS SUSPECTED IN BOMB EXPLOSIONS

Six Men Seen in Vicinity With Suspicious Packages

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Police tonight were holding three men suspected of being implicated in the bomb explosions early today at the Spanish and Italian consulates. The authorities admit, however, that they do not believe any of the men were directly responsible for the explosions, which damaged the buildings housing the consulates, slightly injured more than a score of persons and shattered the glass of windows in the neighborhoods where they occurred.

Suspicion centers the police said on a group of six men, who were seen late last night with suspicious looking packages. Witnesses said the group divided some of the men going in the direction of the Italian consulate with one package while the rest with the other package went toward the Spanish consulate. While search is being instituted for the six men foreign consular buildings as well as federal, state and municipal edifices are being guarded against further outrages.

The three men held by the police are said to be known as radicals.

THURSDAY BIG DAY FOR ST. CHARLES BOYS

ST. CHARLES, Ill. (A. P.)—One hundred guests, fanned on the farm of the institution, will be served "600 husky boys" at the State School for Boys at St. Charles, on Thanksgiving day, Nov. 29, according to Col. Frank D. Whipp, superintendent.

"Our boys will observe Thanksgiving in a fitting manner," Col. Whipp said. "In the morning a swimming schedule has been arranged. This will be followed by a feast at noon, provided in the different cottages."

The menu, according to Col. Whipp is as follows: roast goose with dressing; mashed potatoes and gravy; cabbage salad; apple sauce; celery; pumpkin pie, bread and butter; coffee and milk. The officers, he said, will be served the same menu as the boys.

In the afternoon the boys will be assembled in the Amusement Hall and hear several recitations by a professional entertainer. A motion picture show is scheduled for the evening's program, when every boy will be furnished with a supply of popcorn.

RELIGIOUS SCULPTOR ENDS LIFE'S JOURNEY

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 24.—Maximilian Schneiderhahn, 70 years old, nationally known religious sculptor, died here today of heart disease. He has executed commissions for Catholic churches and institutions throughout the country. He was a graduate of the Munich Academy of Fine Arts and came to St. Louis shortly after his arrival in this country from Germany in 1870.

DRUNKEN MAN'S WIFE ON BENCH SENTENCES HUSBY TO ONE MONTH

Bill Cries "Have a Heart" and She Shows Clemency

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—That old refrain "have a heart" was sung to a new tune today in Magistrate Heilperin's court.

The magistrate complained that he was getting tired of sentencing drunken men to jail and causing their wives to suffer so he invited the wives of two offenders to mount the bench, pronounced the verdict and pass the sentences, if any, and do the least possible injury to themselves.

Bill Gorman's wife took him to task for a drunken row in a restaurant. "Bill," she said, as she donned the metaphorical ermine, "you know you get drunk all the time." "It's a shame," she added, absently thumbing some papers on her desk, "for me and for the neighbors. The fact is you ought to be sent up for six months."

"Have a heart," came Bill's refrain, greatly modulated. "If you keep your head, I'd have a heart," came the judicial repartee. "How many times have I told you to lay off that stuff?"

"Have a heart," came the refrain a key lower.

"Tell the truth, now," went on Her Honor, "wouldn't six months do you good?"

"Have a heart," said Bill, out loud.

"I will," pronounced his wife, scanning a calendar. "give him only 30 days, judge, and see what that does for him."

TRAPP WANTS SECRET SOCIETIES TO OPEN MEMBERSHIP BOOKS

Will Recommend Such Bill in Legislature on Monday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 24.—Governor M. E. Trapp, entered the Ku Klux Klan controversy in the state legislature today by coming out definitely for an act governing secret organizations in Oklahoma, particularly with respect to making available for public inspection the membership lists of all such orders.

The executive announced after a conference with members of the senate that he would recommend to the legislature Monday a bill along these lines, declaring that while he did not wish a klan or anti-klan statute specifically, he wanted one that would apply to all secret organizations.

REPUBLICAN EDITORS MEET IN MISSOURI

JEFFERSON, CITY, Mo., Nov. 24.—Republican newspaper editors of Missouri meeting here today with members of the Republican state committee and Republican state officials reviewed the National and State political situation and discussed the 1924 campaign.

Resolutions were adopted by the Republican editorial association of Missouri "unreservedly endorsing the national administration inaugurated by the late President Harding and continued under the able leadership of President Coolidge."

Governor Hyde and Republican state officials were commended. Nearly 100 editors, many of them accompanied by their wives attended the meeting.

FOUR ARRESTED FOR DOUBLE SHOOTING

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Four men, passengers in a taxi-car were arrested tonight by Motorcycle Policemen as they sped away from the spot where John Ferrara, 22, had been shot and killed and his father, Nicholas, seriously wounded, half an hour before by four gunmen. The taxi-driver said he picked up his fares one block from where the shooting occurred.

REPUBLICANS AGREE TO SUPPORT COOPER FOR HOUSE SPEAKER

Longworth and Graham Will be Candidates for Leader

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The progressive bloc among Republicans in the house today reiterated their intention of supporting Representative Cooper of Wisconsin for speaker in opposition to Representative Gillett of Massachusetts, while ever yindication was given that Representative Longworth, of Ohio, and Graham, of Illinois, would go into the Republican conference next Saturday as candidates for leader.

During the coming week the progressives, who claim control of about 20 votes exact to hold conferences to draft their demands in definite language. They have announced their intention of seeking to block the re-election of Mr. Gillett unless they are given recognition in committee assignments, sufficient in their opinion to insure consideration of their legislative proposals.

Many supporters of Mr. Graham have announced their intention of voting for Mr. Gillett for speaker. Democratic leaders of the house continued today to make organization plans which are expected to take final form at the Democratic caucus next Saturday night. Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic national committee who will return to the house this session as a representative from Tennessee held conferences during the day with various leaders, including Representative Garrett of Tennessee, who was acting minority leader in the last congress and Garner of Texas, ranking Democrat on the ways and means committee.

RANGERS BLAME SMUGGLERS FOR BOMB OUTRAGE

Claim Two Men Under Arrest Were Merely Messengers

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 24.—A narcotic smuggling band which has been operating thru the port of Corpus Christi is responsible for the sending of the bomb which killed J. A. Barnes and his son, Jesse, 7 years old, in Corpus Christi, November 13, Texas rangers who have been investigating the case announced today.

Juan Morales and Victor Fuentes, who are held under indictment in Corpus Christi, charged with the crime, are alleged to be merely messengers between the smugglers and the intended victim, it is declared.

The rangers declared they had learned that the editor of a newspaper which had its office above that occupied by Barnes had earned the enmity of the smugglers by his activity in a campaign against the smuggling of narcotics into the United States. This man is said to have received several threats because of his activities.

INJURED FOOTBALL FANS MUCH BETTER

SPRINGFIELD, O., Nov. 24.—Ross Trevett, Champaign, Illinois, one of three Illinois football fans injured last night when a Big Four cut of cars struck their automobile was resting easily in a hospital today. Amputation of his right foot which was crushed will not be necessary attendants reported.

Two other men who were slightly injured, Lee Stonebraker and William Keusink, of Champaign, left the hospital. Stonebraker sustained a fracture of his right arm. The men, five in number were on their way to the Ohio State-Illinois game at Columbus.

BURLINGTON DEDICATES NEW CITY HALL

Burlington, Iowa, Nov. 24.—The cornerstone for Burlington's new $125,000 city hall was placed today with appropriate ceremonies.

Judge James D. Smyth gave the dedicatory address and called attention to the fact that a block away, Judge David Rorer built his first home, the first brick house in Iowa.

The membership roll of the Hawkeye Natives, Masonic emblems, the last series of United States stamps and copies of the Burlington Hawkeye, the oldest newspaper of continuous publication in Iowa were placed in a copper box in a niche in the cornerstone.

MARTIAL LAW IS ABOLISHED IN ATHENS

Athens, Nov. 24.—A decree was posted today abolishing martial law. The country has been under military control since the outbreak of the recent counter revolution.

A THOUGHT
A false witness shall not be unpunished, an he that speaketh lies shall not escape.—Prov. 19:5.
And hast thou sworn on every slight pretense,
Thou perjurist art common as bad penny.
While thousands, careless of the damning sin,
Kiss the book's outside, who never look within.
—Cowper.

In Decatur the community chest idea seems to be well established. A goal of $95,000 has been set for contributions toward a group of funds and already the $75,000 mark has been reached. They do things on a generous scale in Decatur.

Justice Floyd Thompson in suggesting that he is looking for higher honors than can come in Illinois evidently has a feeling that the Democratic party has a prospect for another inning in national affairs. The chief justice however must be looking several years ahead.

One thing is certain, when President Coolidge delivers his message to congress a few days hence it will not be pleasing to his Democratic critics. Another thing is just as certain, and that is there will be no doubt about what the president means. The man who said "There is no right to strike against the public safety by anybody, anywhere, any time" is not in the habit of speaking in ambiguous phrases.

It is said that the business of the movie theatres in a national way has increased 10 per cent in the last year. This has been done notwithstanding the alleged troubles of the managers. Just as long as producers can provide pictures that interest the industry will thrive.
The desired for recreation—for entertainment—to which the movie eater, is innate and exists whether business conditions be good or bad.

In undertaking the city plan project and thus endeavoring to give Jacksonville an orderly growth, there certainly is the satisfaction of good company. Many of the best cities in Illinois and in some states adjoining are engaged in similar work. The early residents of Jacksonville who planted the elms which now constitute one of the greatest glories of the city did some work along the city plan line.
Perhaps the present day people can do as much for their children's children.

The coal industry of the state is in an almost paralyzed condition. The owners of mining properties who made vast sums of money a few years ago have recently been losing money just as rapidly. Since industries are operating upon practically a normal basis, the logical reasons for present depressed conditions are found in the unusually mild weather and over-production.
It's the same old story of too many mines and evidently the fuel problems of the country are still far from solution.

STREETS WITHOUT SIGNS
A remarkable thing has happened on two streets in New York City. A short time ago the business men on 34th Street decided to take down all their signs except the electric ones. It was a business proposition, with "art" playing a merely incidental part.
The merchants figured that when there were so many signs, all competing with each other for attention, none of them did much good, and the total effect was to drive good patronage off the street. When they eliminated the signs, they found that they had figured rightly. The street looked so pleasant and inviting that people were drawn to it. Wherefore they took down the electric signs, too, and found that the results were still better.

Now 42nd Street is preparing to do the same thing, through the action of a property owners association. It is an interesting situation to consider.

ACCESSORIES
At the recent convention of the Automotive Equipment Association in the Chicago Coliseum, there were no fewer than 248 exhibits of up-to-date motor accessories. If any car owner fell for them all he'd need was an extra car to carry them in.
If anyone is inclined to complain of the existence of this superabundance of accessories in the motor world he should remember that this is the day of accessories. They are attached to very nearly every branch of life.
Few articles are complete in themselves. The accessories are said really to "make" the costume or the home or the automobile or the theater.
Perhaps it's a good tendency. Accessories permit of standardization in fundamentals, with infinite variety added to suit individual tastes and needs. And just as surely as that accessories are all the rage now, if they become oppressively numerous there'll be a reaction against the less useful and justifiable ones. Where they stand for additional comfort and convenience they will cease to be accessories and become a part of the original object itself.

CHINA PAYS HONOR TO HARDING
The Chinese are said to be a very slow-going people, but the country has not been slow in paying honor to our late president, Warren G. Harding. Recently a monument was unveiled to his memory as a friend of China and of world peace. Many sections of America, not considered slow, are planning to make some sort of tangible tribute to the late president, but only preliminary plans are under way.
The story by special cable received in the Christian Science Monitor recites that a very large crowd witnessed the unveiling of the Harding Monument in Peking. The gathering included the principal officials, the American minister, Jacob Gould Schurman, and the foreign minister, Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, were the speakers. Both emphasized Mr. Harding's friendship for China and China's gain thru the Washington conference.
The monument was erected by the members of the Diplomatic Association and the money for it was popularly subscribed. It is a simple marble obelisk 10 feet high on a plain marble base bearing inscriptions in Chinese and English. It is situated in Central Park, near the altar of the Five Earths, which symbolizes the five races of China.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM NOT SO WORSE
BY BERTON BRALEY
"A DOG'S LIFE!" Why should that express
The depths of human wretchedness?
The troubles of a dog are few,
He gets his board and lodging too,
For simply being on the spot.
No matter if he works or not.
The cost of living doesn't fret him
And human worries don't beset him.
HE has no clothes—and needn't patch 'em;
If he has fleas, why he can scratch 'em.
While woes with which OUR souls are tried
We cannot scratch, for they're inside.
A dog's content, he needn't mix
In business, war or politics.
And if he happens to grow ill,
His master pays the doctor's bill.
AND if he ever thinks about
Life's problems, which he does, no doubt,
He probably would cogitate,
"How lucky is my canine fate!
No bills to pay, no rent to meet,
Isleep, I romp, I drink and eat,
A dog's life suits me well enough,
A man's life must be pretty touch."

BANK SUPERVISION IN ILLINOIS
From The Chicago Banker
pers pertaining to this individual bank are kept under seal.
No one has any idea of the vast amount of work connected with bank examination except those actually engaged in this work. After the examiner and his assistants have completed the examination of an institution, the work-papers are sent to the Chicago or to the Springfield office as the case may be, where a typewritten copy is made. It is then carefully proof read for errors, after which it is sent to the department for analysis where every item of an irregular nature, or any violations of the banking act, are set forth in detail. Reserves are figured, earnings analyzed, all bank balances reconciled and all items for collection verified. The reports then find their way to the chief examiner and his assistants for further scrutiny and comment and lastly thru the Auditor's hands. It is estimated that each report is handled on an average of ten times from the moment it arrives in the Auditor's office until it reaches the chief's desk.
During the administration of Auditor Russell, or from January 1, 1917, to October 29th, charters have been granted to 700 banks, and during that time there have been sixteen which have been dissolved and thirteen that have consolidated. In the same length of time 35 have been liquidated, some desiring to quit business, and a few taken out national charters. In all of this period but 27 have been closed by the Auditor and of that number four were sold without any loss to the depositors and six have been reopened, leaving but 17 in the hands of receivers, a remarkable record considering the deflation in the country has experienced within the past two or three years, and especially when taking into consideration the number of institutions under the supervisory power of the Auditor. To show the increase in state banks during Mr. Russell's administration, the following figures are submitted:
Total resources, 814 banks, Feb. 17, 1917, $1,188,334,905.64; total resources, 1,410 banks, Sept. 14, 1923, $2,160,349,094.71; increase, $972,014,189.07.
Total deposits, 814 banks, Feb. 17, 1917, $1,004,473,174.45; total deposits, 1,410 banks, Sept. 14, 1923, $1,799,861,249.63; increase $795,388,075.18.
Total savings, 814 banks, Feb. 17, 1917, $346,330,923.57; total savings, 1,410 banks, Sept. 14, 1923, $723,895,178.88; increase $377,564,255.31.
But a few years ago a non-banker was elected state auditor. He had been a telegraph operator and his first assistant, or chief bartender, had been a Chicago bartender. Chaos ruled and it was only the native strength of the banking situation in Illinois that prevented disastrous results. Banks and banking have prospered under Auditor Russell and thru his prompt intervention, with all the powers of his office, the creation of unnecessary banks by undesirable has been held to a minimum. He has had many unheralded battles for sound banking in Cook county where a less resolute person, or a less well informed one, would have been powerless. State legislators, and even congressmen, have found him an unsurpassable obstacle when they came "pulling" for would-be-bank-incorporators. Many times he has appeared privately before banking boards and pointed out individual officers "you must get rid of." He always has backed these demands with evidence of misconduct, intolerable in a bank. These are some of the reasons why Illinois bankers want to see him re-elected to his present position. The most casual study of the situation leads to but this conclusion.

PATTERSON LOSES B. B. GAME TO MANCHESTER
Manchester defeated Patterson on the White Hall gymnasium floor Saturday evening by a score of 10 to 7. The rivalry between these two teams has always been very intense. Blakeman and Harp starred for Manchester and Ford was the outstanding performer for Patterson. Following are the lineups:
Manchester—O. Kelly, f; Chapman, f; Lakin, f; Blakeman, g; Harp, g; Agers, g.
Patterson—Ford, f; Weiner, f; Black, c; Kilbrow, g; R. Kelly, g.
The Domestic Science round table held its November meeting at the Governor Joseph Duncan Memorial Home Saturday afternoon, with a large attendance of members and a number of guests.
Miss Grimsley of the Woman's College gave a demonstration of her child culture or musical kindergarten class, with Miss McLeedy at the piano. Twenty-five charming little children quite captivated their audience with their rhythmic games and exercises, and the enjoyment they seemed to feel in the game of development.
After this delightful prelude Mrs. Frances P. Ide of Springfield gave a most interesting address on "Lengthening the Life Line."
Mrs. Ide has given years of faithful service to her community in promoting infant welfare work. She told of the high death among infants, which was recorded at the time of the survey made eight years ago. A chairman was appointed by a newly organized club to visit New York City, where the best infant welfare work was being done, and study the most modern methods.
The difficult task of establishing the work without funds or equipment was finally accomplished with the help of the Medical society, and the city health department.
Beginning in a small way with a part time nurse and one station, and a $300 budget, the bureau of hygiene now has six infant welfare stations, 2,421 children registered at child health centers and a budget of $7,000. The infant death rate has dropped from 120 to 81 and hundreds of mothers have received valuable instructions in the care of their little ones.
About 25 percent of all babies born in Springfield are now registered at health centers. A birth certificate is given each baby whose birth is registered and the nurse gives valuable advice when visiting it.
During the month of October 566 children were brought to the stations, 76 of whom were new cases. Advice only is given if medicine is required the child is referred to the family physician.
The speaker referred to the merits of the Shepherd-Tower bill and emphasized the fact that the stations are patronized by all mothers, regardless of their means.
A pleasing feature of the afternoon program was a violin selection by Miss Eloise Cappe with Miss Mary Alexander as accompanist.
The hostesses of the afternoon were: Mrs. Carl York, Mrs. Clarence York, Mrs. A. L. Adams, Miss Mayme Allison, Mrs. Clifford Alves, Mrs. G. B. Andre, Mrs. A. G. Baldwin, Miss Luella Blackburn, Mrs. Fred Bolton, Mrs. J. F. Claus, Mrs. Bradley, Miss Mildred Brown, Mrs. E. W. Brown, Mrs. T. H. Buckhorpe, Mrs. O. F. Buffe, Mrs. George Cain, Mrs. Eugene Caldwell, Mrs. E. G. Caldwell, Mrs. H. L. Caldwell.
Visitors from out in the county Saturday included Harry Craig, N. T. Fox and J. W. Strawn.

THE GARRETT BOYS ARE DAIRYMEN

Farm Paper Tells Interesting Story of What Lads Known Here Have Done in Establishing a Business.

In a recent issue of the Dairy Farmer, published at Des Moines, Iowa, there is an illustrated article telling of the unusual success made by John and Richard Garrett, sons of Prof. and Mrs. W. I. Garrett, of Baldwin, Kans., and grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ayers of this city.

The illustrated article covering more than a page of the publication, tells in a very interesting way of the manner in which the Garrett boys, with the advice of their father, have established a dairy business and to foundation for a pure bred herd. This excellent bit of work has been done in a comparatively brief period, as the work was begun in 1919.

Here are some explanatory paragraphs from the illustrated article telling of the work in which these boys, known in Jacksonville are engaged: Where there is a real desire to learn a great deal can be accomplished, even if experience and previous knowledge are lacking. Consider, for example the Garretts.

The Garretts are town-raised Kansas folks. John is 17 and Richard, 14. Their father, W. H. Garrett, is a professor of mathematics at Baker University.

Neither he nor his wife ever lived on a farm, and up until four years ago none of the family knew one breed of cattle from another. Since then the boys, aided only a little by their father, have not only established a dairy business, but an excellent foundation for a purebred herd. They have been able to do this because they have profited by their mistakes, solved each problem as it arose, and constantly prepared themselves for the next step forward.

The first cow was obtained in 1919, the family milk requirements being so large that a home supply seemed advisable. From the very first John made the cow his special care. He had scarcely learned to milk her, however, when she died. This was discouraging. It was not to thwart the dairyman's ambition. Thru the sale of some chickens and the arranging of credit, he was enabled to invest $85 in a nine-year-old grade Jersey. This cow gave about three gallons of milk a day, the surplus above that which the family consumed paying for her feed.

But John wanted the records to show a profit above the milk used in the home, as well as above the cost of feed. Accordingly, when the cow freshened, he increased the feed pound by pound until, when she was giving about four gallons, she became sick. Later another grade Jersey was bought.

By this time various kinds of dairy literature had reached the Garrett home, pointing out the differences among cows and creating a desire for the ownership of better animals. On learning of a public sale at which Pet, a family cow of some repute, was to be sold, Professor Garrett began to investigate. He went to see the cow milked, saw the milk measured, and took note of the cream line on the previous milking. Then he made some rough calculations relative to the amount he could afford to pay for the cow. And in the end and to the amusement of some more experienced farmers, he paid $231 for a Guernsey-Shorthorn cow.

Pet, however, has paid out handsomely. During a good share of the remainder of the lactation period she was then in, she produced $60 worth of milk a month. Last year she gave 10,924 pounds of milk, with an average of five percent of butterfat, and is doing even better this year.

At this point Professor Garrett wrote to J. B. Fitch, head of the dairy husbandry department at the Kansas state agricultural college, explaining his sons' interest and inquiring where a suitable heifer might be obtained. In the correspondence that followed, Professor Fitch called attention to three aged cows, each with an advanced registry record, which the college wished to sell. He also urged the Garretts to come and see the cows, whereupon the mathematician and his two sons journeyed to Manhattan.

They went intending to buy one cow, for which they felt they might pay as high as $150. Fitch, however, was obliged to move the cows quickly, and saw that there was an opportunity to place the old cows where they would be mighty useful. Accordingly he asked what the Garretts would offer for all three. Mr. Garrett was somewhat apologetic about making so low an offer, but stated that $300 was all that they could possibly invest.

"Well," said Fitch, "these cows must be sold, and I know of no better place for them than in the hands of a couple of enthusiastic boys. Add $25 to the $300 and you can have these cows, and a bull calf that I am going to show you besides."

The sale was made. Upon the purchase of their first cow, they rented a pasture of seven and one-half acres at the edge of town, buying it a year or so later in order to be sure of a place to keep their growing herd. On this tract were a small house, and a barn made of native oak lumber about sixty years old. Despite the age of the barn, which was fully reflected in its exterior, the frame afforded a good basis for remodeling. A lean-to, containing a ratproof feed room and space for storing hay, and a calf shed were added, the main structure being reserved for the milking herd. This was improved by a concrete floor, constructed on approved lines; six modern stanchions, equipped with drinking cups; a water system, and electric lights. The upper part of the walls was boarded up smooth, while the lower half was lined with galvanized iron, straw having been packed between it and the weather boarding. The barn is arranged so that one end can be removed and the building extended to accommodate a herd of any size.

Virtually all of this remodeling was done by the boys during the summer vacation of 1922, which with their dairy work gave them a very busy and interesting summer. They have found their occupation both profitable and healthful and are using their "dividends" to pay their school and clothing expenses as well as to pay for the place and its improvements. And incidentally they are learning some valuable lessons of thrift and industry that will be of service to them all their lives.

TO FORM COMMUNITY CHORUS AT FRANKLIN

Mme. Colard Will Direct Big Organization of Singers—Music Club Meets and Elects Officers.

Franklin is to have a community chorus, to be directed and trained by Mme. Elma Colard of Illinois Woman's college. The first meeting will be held next Friday evening, and it is hoped to enroll one hundred members in the organization.

It is planned to have a ten weeks' course of lessons, and to close the season by the presentation of an operetta. The chorus is being financed and fathered by the Franklin Music club, and final plans for its organization were made yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the club, at which officers of the club for the coming year were elected.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. W. C. Calhoun, with Miss Mary Narr as hostess. The following program was given:

Piano Solos—"Waltz" (Gimble), and "A Summer Night" (Binet)—Mrs. W. C. Calhoun. Vocal Solo—"Mrs. Charles Ryan, with violin obligato by Miss Gussie Flynn. Paper, "From Cowboy to Parsifal,"—Mrs. A. F. Ruble. Violin Solos—"Habanera" from Carmen, and "Liebe Lied" (Kreisler)—Miss Gussie Flynn. Paper, "The Story of Olympea"—Mrs. J. E. Miles. Group of readings from Edgar Guest—Misses Grace Armstrong and Grace Hill.

At the meeting the club elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. W. C. Calhoun. Vice president—Mrs. Charles Gibson. Secretary—Mrs. Fred Miller. Treasurer—Miss Edith Flynn. Librarian and reporter—Miss Dorothea Sargeant.

HORSE MEAT USE INCREASES IN FRANCE

Washington, (A. P.)—Consumption of horse meat as an article of daily diet is increasing in France, the Department of Commerce is informed, and the annual slaughter of horses is estimated at about 120,000 head. Of this number about 100,000 are of French origin, while the greater portion of the balance is imported from Great Britain.

The advantages claimed for horse meat are its comparative cheapness and nutritive quality. Its sale is regulated by law to avoid its substitution for other meats and it is usually sold in butcher shops especially adapted for that purpose.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE SOCIETIES

Gamma Delta.

The members of the Gamma Delta society of Illinois college met in the society room of Beecher Hall Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. O. Henry, was the author studied at this meeting; Clara Smith gave a sketch of his life and Janet Brown read one of his stories, "Cupid's Exit No. 2."

After the program there was a business meeting during which matters pertaining to the future of the society were discussed.

Sigma Phi Epsilon.

There was a regular meeting of Sigma Phi Epsilon society of Illinois College, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the society room of Beecher Hall.

The members responded to roll call by relating some literary current event, and after a brief program there was a business session when plans for the future were discussed.

The meeting was brought to an end by a very delightful social hour, at which time the hostesses, Glenna Smith and Mabel Rogers served refreshments.

Entertained Agora Society

A very delightful party was given Friday evening by the members of the Agora society of Illinois College for Sigma Phi Epsilon at the home of Grace Hopper on North Prairie street.

The affair was known as an "irresponsible" party, in which all the guests came with their right hands securely bound and did everything left handedly. The evening was spent most enjoyably with games and other such forms of amusement. Mary Cummings, Dorothy Ford and Marion Cully had charge of the entertainment.

St. Elmo

Portrayed by a Notable Cast, including John Gilbert, Barbara La Marr and Bessie Love

Just before the bitter blow that made a reckless drama of his life, St. Elmo (played by John Gilbert) presents the plans of the new church he is going to build for his life-long friend, Murray Hammond (played by Warner Baxter). Young Hammond's father is enkindled with love and gratitude for St. Elmo and impulsively shakes his hand. Agnes Hunt (played by Barbara La Marr) gazes lovingly at her fiancé.

Yet only a few minutes later, Agnes and Murray forget their love and friendship of St. Elmo. He finds them in each other's arms. In bitter renunciation of those he held dear, he turns into a restless wanderer on the face of the globe. Until . . . and in that "until" is secreted the charming romance that makes the screen version of Augusta J. Evans' popular novel.

CHILD'S FUNERAL IS HELD AT WINCHESTER

Remains of Little Maxine Markillie Laid to Rest Saturday Afternoon—Other Winchester Items

Winchester, Nov. 24.—The funeral of Maxine Markillie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Markillie, was held at 2:30 o'clock at the Methodist church, with a large number of relatives and friends present. Rev. C. C. Nordling read the hymns and conducted the impressive service. From the church the remains were taken to the cemetery, the pall bearers being Carl Markillie, Paul Markillie, Burrows and Quinn Markillie, Carl Campbell and Luther Moore. There were many beautiful flowers and these were in charge.

of Mrs. Thomas Dugan, Mrs. Carl Campbell, Misses Alice Mudd and Margaret Watt.

Obituary

The following obituary sketch was read at the service: Maxine Markillie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Markillie, was born March 28, 1912, in Winchester, and passed away about 10 o'clock Thursday morning, Nov. 22. Little Maxine's brief life has been one of physical handicap almost from the beginning. From the age of four years her constitution was gradually weakened from the inroads of progressive muscular atrophy and although most of the time she has been a semi-invalid, her spirit has ever been a cheerful and happy one. Maxine attended the public schools until she was compelled to drop out in the third grade because of approaching invalidism, but being ambitious to learn she continued her studies at home under the guidance of her devoted mother. Last year she made the final tests and was able to take her place in school, but was not able to remain there long. She was very fond of reading and was thus able to pass many otherwise lonely hours.

She was privately baptized and taken into the Methodist church in September of last year by Rev. Carl Corrie. She enjoyed going to church whenever that rare privilege was hers. This angel has come and gone, not forever but to prepare the way for us. Her patience during her long days of illness, her cheerful disposition and her beautiful affection should inspire us to nobler living. God is indeed good to send such a flower to us even for so short a time.

Poultry, butter and eggs were sold and quite a goodly sum taken in.

The ladies of the Christian church held a market in the Markillie & Ullery store Saturday.

Many friends will be surprised to learn of the marriage of Harry Lashmet, a former Winchester boy, and son of Mrs. N. T. Lashmet, and Miss Sadie Fox of Rockford, Ill.

Mr. Lashmet has held a position with Swift & Co., in Chicago for several years and he and his bride will make their home in that city. Their many friends will extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Strang of White Hall were visitors in Winchester Saturday.

PUP GETS MEDAL FOR FACING LION

Prescott, Ariz.—(A. P.)—A hound pup has been awarded a medal for bravery. The dog, alone and unprotected recently held a mountain lion at bay in a Colorado river canyon until a party of hunters appeared.

Ramsay Patterson, noted big game hunter of the Southwest, killed the lion with a revolver.

The lion had been driven to a flat rock by the pack of hounds, but when it turned snarling, all the pursuers except the one young dog drew back in terror.

The lone pup scrambled up on the rocks and growled at the lion, baffling the menacing beast into worried inaction. The hunters arranged to attach a medal to the hound's collar.

Miss Martha C. Walbaum was a visitor on the square from Ashland Saturday.

MUSKMELON STARTS MAN TO FORTUNE

By Crossing Different Varieties Has Finally Developed Specimen Weighing 20 to 24 Pounds Each.

MUKWONAGO, Wis. (AP)—The success of many men has been attributed to various strange things, but few, it is believed, have been inspired by the muskmelon as was A. H. Craig, 76, postmaster here. He asserts that the whole fabric of his life and achievements was built up thru inspiration furnished by the melon.

Craig became identified with the melon industry after a series of financial misfortunes, commencing with the failure of a bicycle factory in which as a young man he invested his savings. That failure compelled him to mortgage his home to pay his obligations.

"I wrote to a New York publisher for a job and got one," he explained. "It was to write a book of 450 pages on the subject of debate. The result was 'Craig's Pros and Cons'—an outline of school debate. Asked to name the compensation for writing this book, I gave the publisher the mortgage represented by the mortgage indebtedness of my home."

Paying off the homestead mortgage with a now widely used book left an empty pocketbook. Casting about for substance and health took him into the outdoors and growing things and melon culture suggested itself.

At that time the article was a luxury in the markets of the east. Craig decided to grow a melon that would stand above all others by intelligent and scientific production. He sent to France, Spain and Persia for seed. He first grew melons with some success but more in failure. He visited Indianapolis and at a city produce market there was attracted by a specimen of provincial melon of the Hoosier state. He bought one for a dime, ate it, and saved the seeds. Later he crossed it with one of his own kind.

The result was melons that ran 20 to 24 pounds weight.

Craig set out to reduce the size, but a market melon it was undesirable because of its weight. After years of experimenting, a superior product came into being.

The first success of the new variety found birth at a banquet given in honor of former President Taft in Minneapolis, where the guests clamored for melons and then more melons.

REPORTS ROYAL PALACE NEVER SAW A BATHTUB

Prague—(A. P.)—Prague counts as many curiosity shops as the ordinary city does butcher and bakers, and articles of striking interest often are to be seen in their windows. Not long ago one displayed an elaborate bathtub, said to have belonged to and been used by the late Emperor of Austria, Francis Joseph, and the exhibit attracted as much attention as would have the actual throne of the royal Hapsburgs.

This piece of imperial furniture was bought by a man who made a fortune during the war by selling paper-soled shoes to the Austrian army, and it became the most valued piece of his collection in his new villa near Prague. He showed it to his visitors with much pride, and related patronizingly how much it had cost him.

Then one day some one questioned its authenticity. The owner at once started an investigation in Vienna, and was in due time informed by his agent that Francis Joseph never used a bath tub, preferring a daily sponge bath with cold water and a brisk rub-down, and that during the days of this emperor there was not a single bath room, or even a bath tub, in the Austrian imperial palace.

BODY OF MAN LYNCHED 60 YEARS AGO FOUND

Belleville, Ill.—A skeleton said to be that of John Lane, who was lynched 60 years ago by a mob for alleged clubbing a hunter to death, has been dug up by trackmen of the Mobile & Ohio Railroad.

The arm of the man were handcuffed, and this was the means of identifying the body, which was buried on the outskirts of Columbia, near here. Old residents say the spot was the exact location where Lane was buried.

JAILBIRD MAKES HOOTCH IN CELL

Monmouth.—A distillery in a cell in the county jail here evidenced the fact that O. E. Goodenough, held on a charge of "bootlegging," believed in "Prohibition."

Sheriff Hewitt, detecting a "familiar" odor coming from one of the cells, discovered a miniature still composed of two bottles in Goodenough's cell, in which he was making liquor from grapes.

AT THE GRAND

Andy Gump, Min and Chester with a number of their good friends presented a musical comedy at the Grand last night. The various scenes were based on Sidney Smith's world famous cartoons and the events were of a kind to keep the audience in continuous good humor. Uncle Bim, the widow Zander, Babe and others who have lived because of the Gump cartoons were all present and lost nothing of their appeal by appearing in mere flesh and blood. The musical features were good and the "show" pleased the audiences which assembled for afternoon and night performances.

The Misses Nell and Rose Quigg were Virginia shoppers here Saturday.

Miss Frances Peak was a Winchester caller in the city Saturday.

Illinois and Michigan Tie for Championship

Illini Defeated Ohio 9-0; Grange Scored Another Touchdown

OHIO STADIUM, Nov. 24. (A. P.)—Illinois defeated Ohio State today 9 to 0 in the annual game between the two institutions and won a tie with Michigan for the Western conference championship.

With 45,000 spectators looking on the trailing Western conference Buckeyes played the Illinois eleven to a standstill in the first three periods, weakening in the fourth and permitting a field goal and a touchdown.

For a time it looked like the Buckeyes were going to spill Illinois' championship aspirations. In the third period Ohio rushed and forward passed the ball to the Illinois' 1-foot line but Honaker, playing his last game, failed to take it over on three plunges.

It was a game typical of the memorable battles which have been staged between the two schools in years past. Starting with the odds against them, and, faced with the necessity of stopping "Red" Grange, Illinois' star halfback, the Buckeyes not only held in check for three periods but outplayed his team, definitely threatening to score on three occasions, but lacking the final punch to put the ball over.

Grange and his followers with their season's perfect record at stake, however, were not to be denied and the break came early in the final period. The Illini, taking the ball near mid-field, worked it well into Ohio territory and Britton, rated as probably the best kicker in the Big Ten, booted the ball over the goal for three points from a difficult angle on the 38-yard line.

Encouraged by their first taste of scoring Illinois opened up with a drive after the next kickoff which carried them to the Ohio 32-yard yard line from whence Grange, guarded by excellent interference, finally succeeded in breaking into the clear and dodging his way thru the Ohio tacklers to the goal line.

Although defeated, Ohio State made more first downs than Illinois, the final count standing 13 to 12, the edge going to the Buckeyes. Each team made five first downs in the first half while Ohio made eight to Illinois' seven during the last two periods, the Buckeye advantage being obtained thru a long march in the third quarter.

Ohio also held the advantage in the aerial game, Workman, Buckeye star, completing several long tosses early in the game and then switching to shorter tosses which also were successful. While

CALIFORNIA WON FROM STANFORD

CALIFORNIA STADIUM, Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 24. (A. P.)—The University of California won another Pacific conference football championship the fourth successively by its nine to nothing victory over its greatest rival, Stanford University, this afternoon in a fierce game that served to dedicate to collegiate sport California memorial stadium.

Everyone of the 72,609 seats in the stadium was taken and the hill top high above the great bowl 10,000 more got a glimpse of the game.

California and Stanford proved almost evenly matched.

IOWA DEFEATED NORTHWESTERN IN HARD FOUGHT GAME

Purple Furnished Surprise by Forward Passes in Final Quarter

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 24. (A. P.)—Iowa came off victorious in the annual homecoming game with Northwestern here today by a score of 17 to 4, but the Purple and White warriors furnished the surprise of their entire season by uncovering three forward passes in the last quarter that almost spelled disaster for the Hawkeyes. Only the first plunging of Parkin, Fry and Graham saved the day for the visitors for, with McElwain doing the tossing and Seidell and Kelley receiving three aerial passes netted the home boys close to 100 yards, resulted in a touchdown and threatened another which would have meant a defeat for the visitors.

The game began with the teams apparently holding each other at bay but in the first period after Iowa had worked the ball well into Northwestern's territory, but had encountered a stone wall defense, Hancock dropped back and booted the ball thru the goal posts for three points. This looked like a safe margin until, in the second half, Davis for Northwestern tried the same play after the ball had been heeled by a fair catch following a punt. It failed by inches and the half ended with Iowa continuing to hold the lead by the narrow margin.

In the third period however, McElwain, the Northwestern captain appeared to take on a new life and after a fumble on the kickoff had given him an opportunity he plunged thru the line and circled the ends until he placed the ball on Iowa's one yard line.

Northwestern carried the ball over and took the lead.

The Iowa team then settled down to business with Fry doing the major part of the work. It was but a moment after the final quarter started before Graham and Fry had carried the ball over and once more took the lead. But with the score standing 17 to 7 against him McElwain again braced and from his own thirty yard line he made two forward passes and placed the ball on Iowa's five yard line, from which point they easily plunged over for a touchdown.

The lineup and summary:

Northwestern	Pos.	Iowa
Davis	Left tackle	Romey
Mathews	Left guard	Flickenstein
Lowrey	Center	Griffin
Magnuson	Right guard	Olson
Horton	Right tackle	Kriz

Curtain Rung Down on 1923 Football Season

AD CURTAIN 123
CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (A. P.)—The curtain was rung down on the 1923 football season tonight with Michigan and Illinois sharing the championship laurels of the western conference. Last year Michigan and Iowa divided the honors, Michigan with a crippled team, maintained its unsullied record and its claim to first honors by winning its fourth victory of the season, defeating Minnesota 19 to 0, while Illinois won its fifth victory by virtue of Britton's toe and Grange's fleet legs, beating Ohio State 9 to 0.

Minnesota, the only other team who started its game today with a chance at the championship could have won only in case both Illinois and Michigan had been beaten. The Gophers with two victories, one defeat and a tie, wound up in fourth position in the percentage column, Chicago with its five victories and one defeat, slipping into third place.

Chicago's total point score was the largest in the conference with 90 to its opponents' 22. Illinois made 64 points to its opponents' six, Iowa being the only team to score against the Illini.

"Red" Grange, the Illini ace and the Western conference wonder of the season was the leading individual scorer with 12 touchdowns made in conference and non-conference games for a total of 72 points, tying the record made last year by Locke of Iowa. Captain Martineau of Minnesota was next with 43 points and behind him came Fry of Iowa with 42. Workman of Ohio State was fourth with 37.

The leading scorers of the Big Ten and Notre Dame teams, including points made in conference and non-conference games follow:

WAVERLY SQUAD WINS FROM ROODHOUSE

Saturday Game at Waverly Ends With Score of 26 to 0 in Favor of Waverly Players.

Waverly, Nov. 24.—The Waverly high school football squad won in a game here with Roodhouse this afternoon, the final score being 26 to 0. It was a clean game all the way thru and Waverly seemed to have control of the game from start to finish.

Waverly scored three touchdowns and kicked two goals after touchdowns in the first quarter, and scored one touchdown in the second quarter. Substitutes were used by Waverly in the second half and the local squad lost two chances of scoring in the last half by fumbles.

The lineup of the two teams follows:

Roodhouse	Pos.	Waverly
Hokkins	Center	Robinson
Phillips	Right guard	Wells
Mellon	Right tackle	Isaacs
McGee	Right end	Hall
Hiehlimer	Quarterback	W. Ashbaugh

REPARATION WINS MARYLAND HANDICAP

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 24.—Senator Joe Davis' Reparation, an outsider in the betting gave today's huge crowd a jolt when he carried off the $10,000 Southern Maryland handicap, dash of one mile for two year olds and up. J. McMillen's Flintstone was second with the Green Tree Stables Exodus third. The time was 1:41 3-5. The winner was paid $33.60 for each $2 ticket wagered.

The race was marred by a spill at the turn for home when Jockey McTaggart on Avisack, Lang on Dunlin and Hastings on General Thatcher fell with their mounts. None of the boys were injured.

RITOUA WON CROSS COUNTRY RUN
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 24.—Willie Ritoula, of the Finnish-American A. C., New York, today won the International A. A. U. cross country championship for the second successive year when he led a field of 42 runners over the 6 1-4 miles course in Fairmount Park in 31 minutes, 56 seconds. Meadow Brook Club, Philadelphia won the team championship.

CHICAGO DEFEATED WISCONSIN 13 TO 6 IN GREAT CONTEST

Captain Pyott Crashed Over With Two Touchdowns

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (A. P.)—Captain Jimmy Pyott of the University of Chicago eleven wound up his intercollegiate football career in a blaze of glory today by crashing over with the two touchdowns that gave Chicago a 13 to 6 victory over Wisconsin in the final game of the western conference season. The desperately fought contest was witnessed by 34,000 spectators, who jammed every inch of seating space in Stagg field making it the record crowd of the season.

Captain Pyott scored his first touchdown in the second period after a thrilling 17 yard dash thru the Wisconsin team and repeated the achievement in the fourth with almost the identical play. Throwing the Badgers into confusion on a fake pass, Pyott zig zagged thru a broken Wisconsin field for Chicago's first score dodging a pack of Wisconsin tacklers and racing across the goal line after a spurt around left end.

Taft, Wisconsin's plunging full back, scored a touchdown in the third period by grabbing a 20-yard pass from Harris and running another 20 yards across Chicago's goal. Captain Below of the Badgers, however, failed to kick goal.

In the first period Below missed a goal from placement from his own 46-yard line the ball sailing wide of the posts by six feet. The game was fairly uneven until the start of the fourth period when the Maroons opened up with a bewildering trick pass attack that kept the Badgers guessing. Wisconsin, however, was almost as successful with its passes. Harris, Taft and Williams sharing the honors in the aerial attack.

The lineup:

Chicago	Pos.	Wisconsin
Lamp	Left end	Irish
King	Center	Tackmeyer
Rhorke	Right tackle	Nichols
Henderson	Right end	Bentson
Barnes	Quarterback	Nelson
Abbott	Left halfback	Schneider
Pyott	Right halfback	Williams
H. Thomas	Fullback	Harris

Michigan Defeated Minnesota 10 to 0 In Hard Fought Contest

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 24. (AP)—With their backs to the wall, the five regulars and six substitutes of the Michigan 1923 eleven successfully fought to retain their tie with Illinois for the Big Ten conference football championship when they defeated Minnesota today 10 to 0. They held Minnesota's powerful team even on smashing and running, and won by better forward passing and kicking.

At the close of the game Fielding H. Yost issued a statement indicating again that this might be his last year as coach, but he tied a string to his announcement by adding that he never could keep away from the Michigan football team altogether.

Close to 42,000 persons saw the eleven close the football season today.

Minnesota suffered a costly break near the outset of the game when Graham, the star quarter was hurt and removed for the balance of the game.

Captain Harry Kipke of Michigan, playing his last game was a host in himself, his kicks keeping the ball away from the Michigan goal and finally his drop kick in the third period clinching the game for the Wolverines.

Captain Martineau of Minnesota also playing his final game kept the crowd on their feet by his shifting runs, sometimes failing to gain but often flashing momentarily into a position where he threatened a

TIGERS SHOW CLAWS TO TAYLORVILLE HIGH

Hand Christian County Gridders 19 to 0 Defeat—Rose Gets Two Touchdowns and Crabbe One.

The Tigers again showed their knowledge of the grid game yesterday afternoon at Taylorville when they fulfilled a part of the prophecy by taking the heavy end of a 19 to 0 score, which, to tell the truth, was a bit more lopsided than was expected.

The I. S. D. boys started with a rush. In the first quarter Crabbe went over for the first touchdown and Sellers kicked goal. Rose took it over for the second score after making another of his noted 50 yard runs after receiving a forced kick.

The second quarter found both teams fighting hard with neither gaining much advantage throughout the quarter, but in the last few minutes of the third quarter Rose again pushed it over for six more counters.

In the fourth Taylorville opened with numerous passes, several of which were intercepted, but both lines held airtight and on account of their brilliant work both in offense and defense neither team could add any additional points.

BOWEN AND TILDEN HIGH SCHOOLS TIE

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Bowen and Tilden High schools played a 0 to 0 tie today in the game which was to have decided which of the two teams would play Lane Tech High School for the High School football championship of Chicago.

Lane Tech had won the championship of the high schools of the north part of the city and Bowen and Tilden were to fight it out today for the south side high school championship and the right to meet Lane Tech next Saturday to decide the city championship but neither team was able to score.

Hyde Park High school defeated Wheaton 21 to 0.

MALE VICTORIOUS OVER HARVARD 13-0

The Game Was Played in a Steady Rain and Both Teams Were Forced to Punt and Wait for the Breaks.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 24.—(A.P.)—An alert Yale eleven, taking advantage of Harvard's mistakes on a muddy field, defeated the Crimson in Harvard stadium today 13 to 0, capturing for the Blue its first big three championship since 1916 and incidentally scoring Yale's first touchdown on Harvard's home gridiron in 16 years.

The game, played in a steady shower on grounds soaked by a night and a day of rain, gave little opportunity for the display of strategy. Both teams were forced to kick and wait for the breaks.

Spectators and players alike braved the hardest conditions for the ultimate big three battle of the year. More than 50,000 persons, draped in waterproofs, or blankets and many wearing the Sou'wester of the fisherman, sat in a steady downpour and watched the rival eleven pursue the water-logged elusive ball.

ARMY AND NAVY PLAY SCORELESS TIE

Contest Was One of the Most Bitterly Fought Battles in History of the Two Ancient Rivals.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(A.P.)—Army and Navy fought each other to a standstill today in the mire of the Polo Grounds before the greatest crowd that ever witnessed the annual service struggle for gridiron laurels. Neither goal line was crossed in one of the most bitterly contested battles these time-honored rivals have ever waged and out of the tangled, heaving mud-spattered mess, they emerged at the final whistle with honors evenly divided.

Neither attack was able to penetrate its opponents' 25-yard line. Thus balked, each team tried to break the deadlock with drop kicks but these attempts, too, failed.

A throng of 66,000 that included Secretaries Week and Denby among its host of notables witnessed the first scoreless tie since the Army-Navy Classic was inaugurated in 1899. It was the second no-victory struggle in the 26 games staged so far and left unbroken the deadlock in the series, each team having won 12 games.

BIG TEN RIVALS PLAY HARD YET ESCAPE PENALTY

DETROIT. (By NEA Service).—When Michigan and Ohio State football teams played thru their entire battle at Ann Arbor recently, without a penalty being inflicted, a most unusual feat was performed. For seldom is it that a game on the gridiron is played wherein some infringement is not committed.

But in the Wolverine-Buckeye scrap, there were no off-sides, no holding, tripping, clipping or any violations of the rules whatsoever. The fact that it was a Western Conference fray with two arch rivals combating speaks well for the fair, clean play displayed by both eleven.

In the first half there was no time taken out for injuries. Obviously, there were no substitutions. This, coupled with the fact that no penalties were inflicted, the first two quarters were run off in pretty near to scheduled time. There was real action almost every minute.

This no-penalty game may not be a new record in football. But it at least ties a record.

HORSE IMPOSED UPON BECAUSE OF SENSE

MT. VERNON, Ill. (A. P.)—An example of superior "horse-sense" on the part of an eight-year-old Hamiltonian named "Ted" has been reported on the farm of John Fry of Ida. The horse has learned from observation to pump water from a well in the pasture, and when thirsty is said to take the pump handle and pump the trough full.

"Animal-sense" of cows and horses in the pasture has recently resulted in an imposition on "Ted." When he starts pumping the herd gathers about him and often compel him to pump till they are satisfied, before he gets to quench his own thirst. Mr. Fry, the owner, said the horse has become one of the countryside curiosities.

Illinois Won From Big Swedes in Final Game of Season

In their last game of the season Coach Harmon's Blue and White squad presented the game of their lives before a large crowd, including the local Kiwanis club who were guests of the team. After the smoke had cleared away after the battle it was found that the "Terrible Swedes" were not so terrible after all as they were forced to swallow a 28 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Hilltoppers.

Shorty Rogers, playing his last game for Old Illinois evidently wished to leave a good impression as to his football qualities for he spent his last afternoon having an enjoyable time making long gains, forward passes, and doing practically as he pleased against his opponents. Hale completed a beautiful forward pass for a touchdown. Beecher took the oval over the line twice, and Petefish intercepted a forward pass and galloped down the field fifty yards for the other spectacular touchdown. Hopper's toe did not fail him a single time and all of his goal kicks were beautifully placed. Captain Riess and Weber, also playing their last game under the tutelage of Coach Harmon played one of the headiest games of their splendid careers.

Augustana had a beefy line who showed stellar qualities several times when on the defense, but the back field did not seem to be thoroughly organized and the interference was not first class on the offensive. M. Anderson, a freshman at quarter, played a very listless game for the visitors and from appearances virtually slowed up most of their plays by improper delivery of the ball.

During the latter part of the last quarter Coach Harmon sent in his reserves and several of his second string gave a good account of themselves. At no time during the whole game did the Swedes get in striking distance of the Illinois goal.

First Quarter.
Illinois kicked to Augustana 20 yard mark, the ball going down on the 30. On failure to make downs Augustana punted to Illinois' 35, where the runner was held. Illinois made their first down on second scrimmage. Rogers made 25 yards off right tackle. Illinois again made downs. With the ball resting on the 11 yard line, Bowman carried the ball to within two feet of the goal but Illinois received a penalty for shoving the runner which brought the ball back to the 22 yard mark. On the fourth down Illinois punted out of bounds, the ball going to Augustana on the 20. After failing to gain on the first two downs Augustana punted to the middle of the field and the ball was returned to the visitors' 40 yard mark by Hopper. Augustana intercepted a forward pass on their own 30. Barnes made first down off right tackle. The visitors then completed a forward pass to the Illinois 45. On their fourth down the visitors punted out of bounds, Illinois getting the ball on the 20. Rogers tore off made first down by repeating the same play. The quarter ended with the ball on Illinois' 30 yard line.

Score: Augustana, 0; Illinois, 0.

Second Quarter.
Illinois punted to the visitors' 35. Augustana could not make downs and punted the ball going down on Illinois' 45. At this point, in a line plunge, Illinois fumbled the ball rolling thru the line. Johnson recovered it for an Illinois gain of 6 yards. On the fourth down Illinois punted to Augustana's 15 yard mark and the ball was returned to the 29 for a down. Augustana again failed to make the distance in three downs and punted to Illinois' 35, where the runner was held. At this time the visitors were holding a tight line against the home boys and Illinois was forced to punt to Augustana, the ball going down in the middle of the field.

Score: Augustana, 0; Illinois, 0.

Third Quarter.
Illinois kicked to Augustana's 15 who returned to the 25 for a down. Augustana punted to Illinois' 40 and Rogers returned it to the middle of the field. On their fourth down Illinois punted to the visitors' six yard line where the runner was held. Augustana punted to their own 40. Beecher made first down by going thru the line. Rogers followed with a ten yard gain. Beecher again made 9 yards bringing the ball to the 10 yard line. On the next play, Illinois again made their downs, Beecher then carried the ball over off right tackle, and Hopper used his toe for the odd point.

Illinois kicked to the 20, the ball going down on the 35. On fourth down Augustana punted to Illinois' 36 where the runner was held. Rogers made 20 yards off right tackle. Illinois followed this up by again making their downs, but losing the ball on downs on Augustana's 29 yard line where the quarter ended.

Score: Augustana, 0; Illinois, 7.

Fourth Quarter.
Shaffer substituted for Fogleman. On their fourth down Augustana punted the ball going down on the 35. Rogers then pulled another spectacular gain off right tackle for 23 yards, the ball resting on the visitors' 10 yard line. From this point Beecher went around right end for a touchdown, and Hopper again added his usual point. After a few more plays, the Reserves took the field for the remainder of the game, but the visitors were unable to brace up against to put it over. The game ended with the ball on the Illinois 45 yard mark.

Score: Augustana, 0; Illinois, 28.

IS KISS RELIC OF CANNIBALISM?

BERLIN, Nov. 24. (A. P.)—Is the kiss a relic of cannibalism? Many German scientists say it is and insist that it was customary for the cannibals to kiss their prospective victims. They further contend that the meaning of it was "I love you so much I should like to eat you." In other words, it was a prelude to a bite and is a wholly inappropriate manner of displaying real love.

The German press, however, is not unanimous in accepting this ultra-scientific statement. Dr. Zeit rises in defense of the kiss, and the poets who have sung its praise, and declares that American doctors reported to be organizing leagues to abolish kissing must have had any practice in the art.

ASHLAND HIGH TRIMS J. H. S. RESERVES

Coach Mitchell took his full squad of reserves to Ashland Saturday afternoon for a tryout against the high school team of that place and was forced to take the little end of a 24 to 7 score.

Mallory made the Jacksonville touchdown by falling on a blocked punt and getting away in the clear. Our boys worked several successful forward passes until Wilson, quarterback, was forced out of the game in the second quarter, after which Jacksonville was unable to offset the loss to the team. Two of the Ashland touchdowns were made from intercepted forward passes.

NOTRE DAME DEFEATED EASTERN TEAM 26-0

Carnegie Tech Fell Before the Fighting Irish—Rockne's Entire Squad Was Used During the Game.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 24.—Notre Dame fighting football team made Carnegie Tech its victim at Forbes Field today, the final score being 26 to 0. The visitors scored once in each period and scored the extra points after the first two touchdowns. Connell accounted for two touchdowns and Layden and Maher registered the others. Carnegie started strong and carried the ball deep into the invaders' territory before they lost it on a fumble.

Carnegie was weakened offensively and never seriously threatened.

Rockne's entire squad got into the game but his regulars Connell and Crowley were the shining lights.

SYRACUSE WON FROM NEBRASKA

Eastern Team Scored the Only Touchdown in Final Period After Three Successful Forward Passes.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 24.—The Orange of Syracuse came out of the East today, met the Nebraska Cornhuskers, vanquisher of the famed Notre Dame and emerged triumphant. A single touchdown made by Captain MacRea late in the fourth period to culminate three brilliant forward passes from Fullback McBride followed by successful try for point gave the easterners a 7 to 0 victory.

Battling thru three scoreless periods before a crowd estimated in excess of 20,000, the two outstanding teams of their respective sections traded tactic for tactic to no avail. The Heavy Orange line was not a factor in the victory for the Nebraska forwards stopped the Syracuse backs consistently. During the first three periods Syracuse was unable to make aerial gains, with any degree of success completing one pass up to the last quarter.

MISS WOODMAN IS BRIDE OF ROY CARROLL

Miss Eugenia Woodman and Roy Carroll United in Marriage at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Swain in Lansing, Mich.

In a ceremony performed Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace R. Swain in Lansing, Michigan, Miss Ella Eugenia Woodman became the bride of Mr. Roy Carroll. The impressive Episcopal marriage service was read by Reverend Virgil Boyer, rector of St. Paul's church, Lansing, and was witnessed by a small company of friends and relatives of the bridal couple.

Yesterday's ceremony united two young people well known in Jacksonville and popular among the members of the younger set in this city. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. U. G. Woodman of 1047 West State Street and has spent practically all of her life in Jacksonville. After her graduation from the local high school in 1921 she spent two years in study at Illinois Woman's College and was also a student at the College of Music. She possesses the charm of a radiant personality that has made her a favorite among her many friends.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Carroll of 134 Pine Street and until a few months ago made his home in this city. He received his education in the local schools finishing at J. H. S. in 1917. For a number of years he was in the office of Joy Brothers Garage in Jacksonville and his many friends here know him as a young man of genial spirit and fine character. Mr. Carroll now holds a position in the office of the Novo Engine Company of Lansing. After a short wedding trip he and his bride will make their home in Lansing at 617 Hilldale street west.

Mrs. Woodman and her daughter Eugenia have been residing in Lansing since their return from Old Mission, where they spent part of the summer and fall. Mrs. Woodman will remain in Lansing until the first of the year.

WILL GIVE CARNIVAL AT I. C. GYMNASIUM

Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. Will Unite in Interesting Events Next Friday Evening.

The Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. of Illinois College with Nellie Swain and Russell Chaney as general chairman are planning a Carnival, to be held in the college gymnasium, Friday evening, November 30.

Some of the features of the evening will be: the side shows including a scene from Hawaii, "The grand blow-out," the freak room, and many others equally as interesting. Of course, the indispensable fortune tellers will also be present, two in number. There will likewise be plenty of good things to eat. Last but not least, come the minstrels, under the direction of Lester Cornick and Mrs. Schneider.

Those on the committee are working to make this one of the most jubilant occasions of the college year and all friends of the college are cordially invited to come in their gala spirit.

Other committees in charge of the carnival are: Catherine Combrink and Sara Russell on the costume committee and Mary Cummings and Russell Chaney comprising the refreshment committee.

GRACE CHURCH WOMEN PLAN FOR BAZAR

The Ladies Aid society of Grace church is planning the annual dinner and bazar to be held in the basement of the church Dec. 6. Mrs. Ben Lurton is president of the society and everything is being done to make this one of the best of the annual dinners given by the society. The Sunday school program during the two supper hours, 5:30 and 6:30.

This is one of the events of the year in the social life of the church and no doubt will be a great success. The general chairman of the various departments have been assigned as follows:

Dinner—Mrs. George E. Baxter.
Ticket selling—Mrs. Harvey D. Adkins.
Dining room—Mrs. Paul Samuell and Miss Esther Davis.
Kitchen—Mrs. W. B. Rogers.
Bazar—Mrs. F. H. Rowe.
Decorations—Miss Mary Wadsworth.

LEAVE FOR CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Vasconcellos and daughter Betty Jane left Jacksonville recently in their car for California, Los Angeles being the destination. They were accompanied to Hannibal by Mr. Vasconcellos' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Vasconcellos. Mr. Vasconcellos has been associated with his father in the contracting business here for some years.

Mr. Vasconcellos before leaving sold their residence property, 716 South Main street to his brother-in-law, Henry DePrates, who with his family expects to move from the Applebee dairy farm to his new purchase about the first of the year.

Preserved horse viands can be obtained in more than 12 forms.

Berea Ladies Aid will hold a Thanksgiving Market Nov. 27 at Dorwart's Market.

INSURANCE MEN TO MEET IN CAPITAL

Local Prudential Force to Attend Tri-District Conference in Springfield Monday—President of Company Coming.

The local agency force of the Prudential Insurance Co., will go to Springfield in a body Monday, to attend a tri-district meeting, at which two hundred agents and representatives of the company are expected to be present. President Duffield and a large number of officials from the home office of the company at Newark, N. J., will lead the conference, which will be made up of full representations from the Peoria, Galesburg and Springfield districts.

President Duffield will address a meeting of the Springfield Noonday Luncheon club at the Leland hotel. At 2:15 in the afternoon the insurance men will gather for their principal session. Those who will attend from here are: E. E. Hatfield, W. J. Roberts, George Souza, Frank Robinson, Carl Weitzel, J. W. Buckingham, John Trenter, W. A. Brooks and R. L. Dumas, local manager.

ELKS WILL INITIATE BIG CLASS THURSDAY

Local Lodge Will Give Work to 35 Candidates Thanksgiving Evening—Banquet and Entertainment to Follow.

A class of thirty-five new members will be initiated into the mysteries of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks in this city on Thanksgiving evening, according to an announcement made last night. Plans are underway for one of the best functions in the history of the lodge. The work will be put on in the best style of which the lodge is master and the candidates are guaranteed a first class initiation.

Hundreds of members of the local lodge and scores of visiting Elks are expected to be in attendance. Following the initiation, an elaborate banquet will be served, and the crowd will be given a treat by entertainers from New York City. It is planned to start festivities early in the evening and close the big affair at an early hour—in the morning of the following day.

Local Elks are tooting their horns loud and strong for the great event and something novel in the way of entertainment and refreshment is expected. The spacious home of the lodge on West Morgan street will be the scene of one of the most brilliant affairs in the history of the order.

LEGION CHIEF PLANS FOR ACTIVITIES

Col. Bullington Issues Bulletin Outlining Work in Prospect.

Col. J. J. Bullington of Belleville, the recently elected state commander of the American Legion, has issued a bulletin outlining some of the activities that he purposes for the organization during the coming year.

The first step will be a membership drive in which every post will take part.

A speaking bureau will be established in each of the districts. A department speaking bureau will also be organized at state headquarters from which speakers will be sent out when needed for public events.

New posts will be organized and county organizations will be perfected.

The Legion will be pushed forward by various activities which posts will engage in for the benefit of the community. Public ceremonials will be held during the naturalization of foreigners. Debates will be promoted in the schools on the Legion's proposal to prohibit immigration for five years. The Legion's pamphlet, "The Flag, How to Display it, How to Respect it" will be distributed in the schools. Pictures of war scenes will be secured illustrating the ideals set forth in the preamble to the Legion's constitution. The radio will be used to advertise the Legion.

The commander urged the importance of the membership drive, requesting every post to launch a local drive at once.

Last evening the commander spoke before the Decatur post.

PLAN FOR STAFF PHARMACISTS MEET

LaSalle has been selected as the next convention city for the annual meeting of the Illinois Pharmaceutical association and the dates will be June 24 to 28. J. F. Shreve recently attended a meeting of the executive committee of the association in Chicago, when arrangements for the annual convention were made.

TRADES ASSEMBLY AFFAIRS

The Trades and Labor assembly is arranging for a series of public meetings in addresses to be held during the coming weeks. Rev. M. L. LIVESTOCK SHIPMENTS

The Livestock Shipping association is carrying on an extensive business these days under the management of R. P. Allan. Two loads of cattle were sent to the St. Louis market during the past week and a total of 14 carloads of livestock has been handled in recent weeks.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR CITY PLAN BANQUET

Each Member of Commission Invites Ten Guests to Dinner at Grace Church Tuesday Evening—Speaker will inspect City to Determine Needs.

The entire membership of the Jacksonville City Plan Commission was present last night at a meeting to make final arrangements for the supper to be given by the Commission at Grace church Tuesday evening. It was also voted to add to the membership of the body Mayor Crabtree as chief executive of the city, and Abe Wood as secretary of the local Trades and Labor Assembly.

The banquet will be served promptly at 6:30 o'clock. Each member of the commission will have charge of a table, which will bear the name of the member and will seat ten invited guests. At the conclusion of the supper, Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp, chairman of the commission, will call the meeting to order and introduce Mayor E. E. Crabtree as toastmaster. A sing will be led by W. A. Berryman, with Willard Wessner as pianist. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Elite Six orchestra.

The principal address of the evening will be delivered by Prof. P. G. Holden, city plan expert, who will arrive Tuesday morning. He will be met at the train by members of the commission and taken over the entire city, so that he may be able to see what is needed in the way of a plan. Chairman W. F. Hardy of the Department of Public Works will also speak, and a number of local citizens will make brief talks.

FORMER I. C. STUDENTS MET AT DINNER

Gathering at Champaign Included Students in High School Teaching Work and at University

Former students of Illinois college who are teaching in Illinois High schools have come to look forward to the annual dinner together as one of the most interesting and worth while events connected with the High school conference held at the university the week before Thanksgiving. This custom was started two years ago by a small group that got together without any previous arrangement. Last year plans were made in advance—including both those who are teaching and those who are continuing their study in the university. Forty old friends got together for the dinner and a fine visit.

This year fifty responded to the call—holding the meeting Friday evening at the Southern Tea Room, in Champaign. Teachers in attendance were Park, Prairie, New Canton, F. N. Stark, Prairie City, L. W. Birch, Yorkville, Roger Carter, Girard, Alice Bray, Charleston, Emma Mae Leonard, Jacksonville; Alma Shuman, Carleton; Bonnie Woods, Carleton; Courtney Crouch Wright, Carleton; Ruby Mann, Harrisburg; Mary Alice Pierce, Morris; Ruth Irving, Mineral; Elizabeth Cogswell, Carleton; Gratia White, Staunton; S. Helen Taylor, University H. S., Urbana; John T. Fierke, Carleton; Franklin D. Scott, Jacksonville; Max L. Shipley, Carleton; Doris Shuman, Downers Grove; Joseph Duncomb, Windsor; Elizabeth Morgan Davis, Vienna; James Hatfield, Mason City; Janice Taylor, Galena; Doris Lincoff, Hennings; E. E. H. Mellen, Sidel; Kathleen Emery, Melvin; Vivian Yeldell, Pawnee; Marie Thomas, Delavan; Helen Jones, Arcola; Helen Stevens, Yorkville; Ginevra Thomas, West Lafayette, Ind.; Mattie Reische, Good Hope; Celestine Hemphill, Eldorado; C. H. Dixon, Yorkville; S. Howard Ross, Mt. Vernon; Mabel Ruyle, Jacksonville and Marjorie Black, Girard.

University students, formerly in Illinois college in attendance were Jesse Gtner, Grace Danforth, Betty Rankin, Lora Briggs, B. C. Corrigan, Elliott Arnold, Neil Garvey, Stephen Reid, Louis O. Foster, Mary Duncomb and Suzanne Mayer. Miss Mayer is teaching part time in the university and taking post graduate work. W. G. Guild and Dean Scott also attended the gathering of loyal friends of "Old Illinois."

OFFERING FOR JAPAN
In Westminster church and bible school today there will be an offering for the reconstruction of the mission churches and buildings that were destroyed by the earthquake. Some $315,000 was the amount of the loss occasioned to the work of the Presbyterian Board. This morning Dr. Smith is preaching upon "Man's Fallow Ground and God's Showers." This evening Mary McAlister in "The Yellow Umbrella" will tell a beautiful story on the screen from which a sermon will be drawn upon "Blessed are the Peacemakers."

The Young People's Choir will assist in the Congregational Supper, Wednesday evening and will sing in the service following the supper. Dr. Smith will preach upon "In the Procession of the season will be held at 8:15 Wednesday evening. The Boy Scouts will hold their meeting on Friday evening of next week, instead of on Thursday evening. Games will follow the business meeting, which begins promptly at 7 o'clock.

SALVATION ARMY HAS FULL SCHEDULE HERE

Local Corps Now Has Band and Basketball Team—Much Charity Work Done—Many Meetings Being Held

The local Salvation Army corps is now one of the most live religious organizations in the city. Practically as many meetings are held at the local barracks in a week as at any church in the city, and some new features of the work are attracting wide attention. One of these features is the organization of a Salvation Army band, in which seven wind instruments and a snare and bass drum are already being used. The band meets each Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock for practice.

Another feature is the formation of a basketball team among the young men of the corps. Regular weekly practice is held at the Elks' club, either Monday or Friday evening. It is expected that the team will be able, by the opening of the basketball season to secure a number of games. As soon as the band has sufficient training, it will assist in the public meetings of the Army corps here.

The charitable work of the corps in the city is quite extensive. Help is given daily to needy families, and large quantities of food and clothing are distributed. Recently donations of five bushels of potatoes from a farmer and of 40 loaves of bread by a local bakery were distributed by the officers of the corps to families where they were badly needed. Calls are being received daily for clothing. The army officers urgently request anyone who is willing to contribute articles of clothing, to notify them, as it is difficult to keep enough on hand at the barracks to meet the demands of those in need.

SHIP MEXICANS HOME FROM LAND OF BEETS

Trains Begin Moving Via Alton From Michigan to Southern Border—Laborers Much Improved.

Trainloads of Mexicans are beginning to return south from the Michigan beet fields, and one or two trains have already passed over this division of the C. & A. Those who have seen the Mexicans say they are much improved in dress and appearance than when they went into the north early last spring.

The laborers, many of them with large families, were shipped from Mexico into the beet fields of Michigan under contract with a labor agency. It is said that all laborers are supposed to be back in Mexico by December 12. Thousands of men were imported for the season's labor in the sugar beet country. The Alton handled 11 trains thru Roadhouse during the spring, the main line ran several trains for the immigrants and the Wabash, as well as other roads participated in the transporting of the Mexicans.

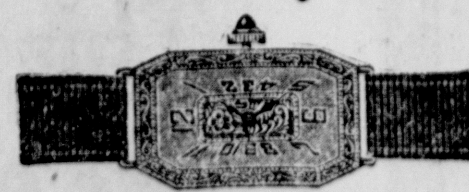

ILLINI LODGE TO INITIATE FIFTEEN
Members of Illini lodge No. 4 are looking forward with interest to a special meeting to be held next Tuesday night. At that time a class of 15 will be initiated. The teams in charge of the work have been making special preparations and the event promises to be of interest to lodge members, new and old. Following the ceremonies a supper will be served. This part of the program is in charge of a committee including D. A. Shadid, Walter Brown, and Earl Gruber.

Illini lodge is doing aggressive work these days and a second meeting for the reception of candidates is to be held at no distant date.

WOMAN SENTENCED TO WORK OUT FINE ON CITY STREETS

Would Receive Allowance of $1.50 Per Day Until Thousand Dollars Was Paid—Attorneys Appeal to Supreme Court—Say Sentence Has No Precedence in History.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (A. P.)—Sentence to work out a fine of $1,000 by hard labor on the streets of the city of Benton, Mrs. Lena Panchire of Benton has invoked the federal constitution in an appeal to the Supreme Court, to prevent what her counsel declares to be the first case of such cruel and unusual punishment on the records of the courts in either this country or England. Sheriff Roy C. Martin of Franklin county, in southern Illinois, raided the home of Mrs. Panchire April 20, 1923, and confiscated a quantity of "white mule whisky." County Judge S. M. Ward placed the woman under a personal injunction to prevent further violation of the prohibition law anywhere in the state. Subsequently the woman was arrested on the strength of affidavits that she had returned to the sale of "white mule" and was changing $3 a pint. Judge Ward found her guilty and on September 13, sentenced her to 100 days in jail and levied a fine of $1,000 and costs.

tion and supervision of the commissioners of streets and alleys at the rate of $1.50 a day, until the fine and costs are paid in full, and further that Lena Panchire is to be kept in the county jail of Franklin county all the time she is not at work."

The attack on this sentence before the Supreme Court has been filed by John A. Logan of Franklin county. "The Eighth amendment of the federal constitution," he declares, "prohibits cruel and unusual punishments to be inflicted. It seems to us that confining a woman to imprisonment at hard labor on the public streets and alleys of a city for an alleged contempt committed out of the presence of the court and not aggravated at that, is unusual, to say the least. A diligent search of the books has not produced a single case, where such a decree has been sustained and we seriously doubt if such a case can be found either in this country or in England."

"In addition to being unusual such punishment inflicted upon a woman, condemning her to hard labor on the public streets of her city is extremely cruel in every sense of the word, and we do not think it is permitted under our constitution and laws. The decree in this court closing the home of the plaintiff in error as a nuisance is in excess of the authority given under the Eighteenth amendment. The decree condemning the plaintiff in error to imprisonment at hard labor on the public streets is also in excess of said amendment."

This is the first case by which the personal injunction provision of the Illinois prohibition law has been brought to the attention of the Supreme Court.

WILL CONTINUE CHRISTIAN CHURCH SERVICES
The evangelistic services at the Central Christian church will continue until Dec. 2nd. Supt. Rodhouse announces a goal of 650 at the Sunday school service tomorrow morning. The school is graded and there are departments and classes for all ages. A baptismal service will be conducted at the close of the evening service. Prof. Hackleman will sing and Dr. Peters will preach at both morning and evening services. These meetings will continue every evening during the week.

SENATE RAISES AND HOUSE KEEPS DOWN

Secretaries to Supreme Court
Justices Get Salary Increase
From One and Held Back by Other.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (A. P.)—Deciding between a senate bill which raised salaries of seven secretaries of Supreme court justices from $3,000 to $5,000, and a house bill which kept them at $3,000, Attorney General Edward J. Brundage, has advised State Auditor Andrew Russell to act under authority of the senate bill and pay the seven secretaries $5,000 a year "until the appropriation is exhausted."

Increases were provided in Senate Bill 305, but House Bill 220 went through both houses and was signed with an appropriation "for seven private secretaries to judges of the Supreme court, at $3,000 each—$21,000 per annum."

Attorney General Brundage's opinion was that the words "at $3,000 each" are of no effect.

"It is my opinion that the Auditor should draw his warrants for the payment of said salaries monthly at the rate of $5,000 per year until the said appropriation is exhausted," the attorney general said. His opinion given Auditor Russell was in part as follows: "Your question in substance is whether you should pay said salaries on the basis of $5,000 a year until said appropriation is exhausted."

"The salaries of said secretaries have been fixed at $5,000 a year by an act going into effect on the same day the appropriation act went into effect, the General Assembly could not, by the language of the aforesaid appropriation in the bill providing for salaries of State officers, change the salary fixed by Senate Bill 305. Therefore the words of the Appropriation act at $3,000 each are of no effect. The appropriation is for the sum of $21,000 per annum for the payment of said salaries. Of course it is insufficient to pay their salaries fixed by law, but that fact does not invalidate the appropriation and it is available to the amount thereof for the purpose of paying such salaries at the rate now fixed by law, $5,000 per annum. The question may then arise whether there is any other appropriation or fund out of which such salaries or the unpaid balance thereof, may be paid. That question can be hereafter considered, if, or when, the necessity of doing so occurs."

AUTO TAX DOUBLES COST OF HIGHWAYS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(A. P.)—Owners of motor vehicles pay to the federal government in taxes each year more than double the amount spent by the government on account of federal highway aid and forest road construction, together with all administrative outlays, according to Secretary Wallace of Agriculture, who has charge of the administration of the highway funds.

Since 1917 the government has been collecting a tax on the selling price of motor vehicles, tires and automobile accessories, and also a tax on the use of passenger automobiles for hire. On July 30th this year $59,012,921 had been collected from these sources. Expenditures on highway by the government in that time totaled $246,782,216, or 45 per cent of the amount taken in.

HAS MORE TEETH THAN HE CAN USE

Mt. Vernon, Ill.—Skilled dental surgery is puzzled over the cutting of the third set of teeth of George McFarland of this city. Local dentists on discovering the man's condition, consulted St. Louis dental surgical authorities whose X-ray pictures disclosed the fact that the upper jaw contained almost as many teeth as should be contained in both jaws together. The patient has 40 or 50 teeth coming out in addition to his permanent teeth which had not been removed. His new teeth, which grow irregularly and unevenly, will have to be removed, according to the dentists.

OIL INDUSTRY TO IMPROVE IN 1924, SAYS BABSON

Statistician Analyzes Oil Securities

Wellesley Hills, Mass., Nov. 23.—Roger W. Babson's recent study of the oil industry, summarized in a statement issued today, is of unusual interest to the investing public, which has been tempted by the recent low prices of oil stocks.

"Overproduction is the outstanding characteristic of the oil world for the current year," says Mr. Babson. "To overproduction may be traced the majority of troubles which beset the oil industry today. The high water mark of oil production in 1923 and for all time was reached in the week ending September 8, when the daily production was 2,280,000 barrels. For the same week last year, this figure was 1,493,700 barrels.

"Consumption of crude oil and gasoline has continued to increase but it has been overshadowed by production from the Los Angeles gusher wells in the Los Angeles basin. Consumption has increased from last year's figure of 586,000,000 barrels to the present indicated rate of 750,000,000 barrels, a new high mark.

"To meet this unusual demand and to prevent a possible famine, the oil industry has undertaken very extensive drilling programs and planned to increase its refinery output by building more refineries and by more extensive use of the process known as 'cracking' which yields more gasoline from crude oil.

"An unlooked for combination of circumstances overrid these plans. A very intensive campaign of close-spaced drilling into four California gusher sand one of which was 1,100 feet thick, threw the bulk of this gusher pool on the market all at once. This production added to that of two new fields in Oklahoma and two others in Texas were the causes of the glut in the crude oil market. Luckily for the oil business just at this time Mexican production was on the decline or a worse condition of affairs might have resulted.

"This overproduction of the crude and refined products caused a severe cut in crude oil prices in all the fields. Mid-Continent 33 percent—35.9 percent gravity fell from $2.00 a barrel in February to $1.10. Pennsylvania crudes dropped from $4.00 to $2.75 a barrel.

"Gasoline prices for white continued relatively high. In August, Governor McMeister of South Dakota forced a reduction from 26 to 16 cents a gallon in that state. This drastic cut started a wave of price cutting, 'gas' wars, and further crude oil price reductions which have probably not yet quite reached the bottom.

"These reductions in crude oil and gasoline prices have cut deeply into the earnings of oil companies. 'Independents' and 'Standards' alike. There has been, and will be further house cleaning and revamping along many lines in the strong as well as the weak companies. Policies of long standing will be changed.

MOVEMENT STARTED TO SAVE EAGLES

Nature Association Says If Their Slaughter Is Continued Only
Place One May Be Seen Soon, Is On Money.

WASHINGTON, (AP).—Unrestrained killing of American eagles in Alaska has stirred up a hornet's nest among naturalists and wild life enthusiasts.

The American Nature Association has taken up the cudgels against the law and, as the first move in a campaign for its repeal and for the protection of the rapidly vanishing American eagle, has issued an appeal to every school teacher in the United States to file a protest on behalf of his class.

The law, it is said, was passed on the ground that eagles live on salmon and thereby damage that industry, one of the most important in Alaska. But the Nature Association points out in reply that a salmon dies after spawning and the eagles eat the fish after they have died and after they have perpetuated their kind.

"One of the best places to see the American eagle is on your money and that will be the only place you can see it if the slaughter of this bird is kept up," says the American Nature Association's call. "No longer do the tourists to Alaska see these emblems of American liberty float above the forests and shoreline."

"The law provides that when an eagle is killed, the gunner may get 50 cents by cutting both feet from the bird and exhibiting them to any commissioner of Alaska with an affidavit.

a regrouping of independent companies and unlooked for workings of 'Standard' connections may well be expected. Many a small producer and refiner will be forced out of business.

"The crisis, however, is over and production is now on the decline. The industry as a whole is gradually righting itself and the spring and summer of 1924 with increasing consumption and lessened production should bring into view a more optimistic horizon than exists today in the Oil Industry.

"Meanwhile, fifteen of the better grade oil stocks have declined $1,000,000,000 in value from their high points for the year in March and April, or an average decline of about 30 percent. A diagnosis of the trouble reveals two primary causes—the general bearish trend of the stock market, and overproduction of crude oil.

"No one group of stocks can long withstand a bear market to say nothing of warding off blows such as those overproduction has given the oil group. During the last ten months the oil industry has ever, or probably will ever sustain. Although the consumption of all petroleum products, gasoline in particular has greatly increased at the beginning of the storage season, the enormous amount of 1,000,000,000 gallons of gasoline were on hand.

"The Mid-Continent pipe line industry has been hard hit due to overproduction in California. Instead of the usual supply of crude oil being taken from this field, the Atlantic seaboard has been receiving large quantities by tank steamers from California. Pipe line runs have thereby been reduced, causing a decline in earnings, as reflected by the recent passing of the Crescent Pipe Line dividend.

"Persistent rumors of new financing have forced the stocks of a number of companies, notably the Texas Company, to low levels. The chief cause of carrying large inventories, brought on by overproduction. But of course, the country needs large visible stocks on hand in order to assure against shortage for the ever increasing demand. Considering this fact, new financing for such purposes should not be regarded in an unfavorable light.

"It is not expected that oils will take a noticeable spurt upward previous to the general market rise. But, in the meantime, the better grade stocks should hold their own, and as overproduction becomes less and less a factor, by the time the general bearish attitude has lifted, these securities should be in a position to participate in the next broad rise.

"General business as shown on the Babson chart is running at 18 percent below normal—an improvement of 1 percent over last week."

been wounded and have not been caught. Many have fallen into inaccessible places where they could not be reached. A large number have been shot for sport by people who have not collected the bounties.

"It seems safe to say that instead of 15,000, approximately 25,000 American eagles have been killed since the campaign began. "In Alaska where fish are abundant at certain seasons of the year, the bald eagle undoubtedly lives largely on salmon, but it is a well known fact in the life history of the salmon that it dies after spawning. The banks of streams are at times lined with the bodies of spawned-out fish which are carried away and eaten by these birds.

"With this recorded slaughter of 15,000 eagles, Alaskans may be sure there are not enough left to affect their supply of fish and game. The war on eagles should be discontinued before the last emblem of the American people is laid low.

"The eagle is a match for any animal of his size. He stands firm before every earthly power except the hand of man. On June 20, 1782, the venerable white-headed bird of Washington, beloved by Americans, was adopted as the emblem of our country. Are the American people to be represented by a defunct species?"

POSTOFFICE TROUBLED BY ODDSIZED MISSIVES

Washington.—(A. P.)—The Postoffice Department has renewed its campaign against the use of small and odd-sized holiday postcards. Postmasters have been urged to see co-operation of manufacturers, dealers and the public generally in eliminating the objectionable size mail matter.

These cards will not pass thru the cancelling machines and cause much annoyance to postal employees during the busiest season of the year. The department requests that no cards or envelopes smaller than two and three-quarters by four inches be used.

PLENTY OF WATER HAS MADE DECATUR

Has Now a Lake Fourteen Miles Long Holding Sufficient Water for City if no Rainfall for Two Years

DECATUR, Ill. (A. P.)—How an inland city, that has never had an adequate supply placed itself on a lake 14 miles long, holding eight billion gallons of water, enough to last the city two years without rainfall in the Mississippi valley, and improved its recreational possibilities almost 100 per cent is told in the story of Lake Decatur, the $2,000,000 artificial reservoir, which Decatur recently completed.

Decatur has worried about its water supply ever since the Civil war and two dams had been built before the present project was started. Both of these had been outgrown and, with the city's industrial activities increasing rapidly, business men of the town realized that the Sangamon river would not provide a sufficient water supply, unless it could be impounded on a large scale.

The situation became acute several years ago when the river went dry and the project for the present dam was immediately launched. The city put in the dam, which is 1,900 feet long and the Decatur Water Supply company, a corporation formed by citizens of Decatur, offered one million dollars worth of preferred stock, paying a seven per cent dividend. The stock was oversubscribed in five days. This corporation bought 5,400 acres of land that was to be covered by the new water level, cleared this land, rebuilt bridges and roads and spent $128,000 in riprapping the banks to protect them.

When the dam was completed the city had an artificial lake 14 miles long, with an average width of one half mile and an average depth of 15 feet. This supply of water, city engineers figure, will be adequate for at least 50 years, taking care of both domestic and industrial growth.

The lake has become quite a summer resort and land values in the vicinity have risen several hundred per cent, according to W. M. Berge, one of the incorporators. Interest in swimming and boating has been greatly stimulated and three eight oared shells will make their appearance on the lake next Spring.

The lake has been made a state fish and game preserve and last year as many as 10,000 wild ducks are reported to have been seen on the lake at one time. Fish have been planted in the lake for government hatcheries. Under the contract for the project all of the property of the corporation will be decided to the city when the stock has been retired. This will take 16 years or less, according to the contract, and those in charge of the property now say that this will be accomplished without trouble.

VETERAN OPERATOR STILL AT KEY IN SEVENTIETH YEAR

Employed by One Road Almost Half Century
—Copied Returns of Elections Since Time of President Grant—Used to Deliver All Messages and Tactfully Break Bad News.

ROCK ISLAND, (A. P.)—Seventy years old, but still as efficient as the day he was 18, S. H. Pierce, of Rock Island, a veteran telegrapher of the Rock Island lines is entering his forty-seventh year of employment with that road.

During his service as a telegrapher, according to Mr. Pierce, he has copied returns from almost every presidential election since Grant became president and has copied many messages relating to events of national interest. On the morning after the Iroquois theater fire in Chicago, he said, he heard messages moving over his wire from all sections of Europe, United States, Japan, and China, from people who were attempting to learn whether or not friends or relatives had been trapped in the conflagration.

"When I first became a telegrapher," Mr. Pierce continued, "people were much more afraid of telegrams than they now are. When they would see me approaching the house to deliver a message they would do many strange things. One woman, on seeing me approach the door, fainted, anticipating bad news. The telegram turned out to be a market report.

"In those days I delivered most of the telegrams that I copied and, knowing what was in the telegrams, I was frequently forced to engage the person to whom it was addressed in conversation and then break bad news to them gently before giving them the telegram."

Mr. Pierce said that he has no particular rules for attaining long life but that he attributes part of his health at the age of 70 to the fact that he once saw his mother, from her seat across the kitchen, shake her head as he was about to accept his first drink of liquor from their hired man. This memory, he said, has always come back to him when offered liquor and as a result he neither drinks or smokes, although liquor was "on the table at every meal" when he was a child.

Mr. Pierce was born in New York state in 1853. He remembers many incidents of the Civil war and the excitement that prevailed as troops were recruited and sent south. The family moved to Wisconsin in 1865, later coming to Illinois.

One Way to Look at Pictures

(Rexoli Seabury.)

What should be the basis of appreciation for the pictures we have with us at the present time at the Strawn gallery, sent by the Federation of Arts of Washington, D. C.

To answer one question by asking another. What is the point of departure for the estimate of anything that comes in our way. How, save by some principles gleaned from our experience with life can we put everything to account, pictures included, in order to win near the goal.

Always before us is the realization that we get from people and places and things what we take to them. To illustrate:

Consider for a moment the family baby. He plays on the floor while various members of society view him from different points of vantage. The mother is sure to think the baby is the best human angel in the world because he is her baby. The bachelor uncle will say "Oh see what clever child he is—he knows me!" A merchant in hearing looks upon the child as a possible consumer of wearing apparel, the politician thinks of him as a member of society, while the undertaker will sincerely wish the child long life, but if he should fall into the well he, the undertaker, will be glad to offer his services.

So it falls out that appreciations and opinions are still largely according to our habits of thinking. We understand the familiar, but are inclined to disregard what is unfamiliar. In looking at pictures it is natural to turn to those which represent those things and people and places that we have seen before. The large realistic pictures standing with a warm blanket of snow about their feet appeal to every lover of the great outdoors. Why worry about the latest fad or painting.

The young lady playing a guitar seems to have her back turned toward us for the sole purpose of inviting us to stroke her pretty rounded neck. At the same time we admire her red velvet sleeve and the somewhat jewel-like quality of the entire tone quality of the color. The rose in her hair answers the red answers the red of the sleeve. Next to this young lady is a large picture of Indians arranged around a camp fire smoking and playing upon a harmonica. The fire-light glows on their faces. The sunset light in the West makes a second kind of light to paint, which is difficult. At the end of this room is a smaller picture of many little trees. It has taken considerable paint to tell this story—a slight confusion accompanies too near a view of this, and some anxiety seems to be caused by the later discovery of a man behind the trees and some sheep. Why the heavy paint and why hide the man?

But all this is beside the mark. How shall we look at pictures? How shall we know when our taste is good or when they are worthy of our admiration?

Before that question can be answered satisfactorily there are the traditions of art to consider, as to what art is and how it came about, and why the race mind holds certain opinions about it. Twenty thousand or more years ago neanderthal man and some of his descendants began to scribble on the walls of their caves and holes in the ground much as our small boy experiments (if we are willing) on the new paint. As civilization began to happen and man discovered bright colors in the earth he decorated these walls which in the course of the centuries developed into the walls of churches and palaces. These decorations were of religious significance. The race was near to God, and all its symbols and forms were allusions to spiritual things—the saints, the Christ child, the Madonna—all the forms were flat; they did not come forward or go back from the wall. They had no "characure". The wall decorations of the Renaissance were but a different conception of the same deity worshipped by the Egyptians and the Greeks, and worked out, as usual, by their habits of mind.

In the long decades which followed the Renaissance we have gradually grown away from the voice in the burning bush. Man has been painting—not the saints and angels but himself. David was the strongest exponent of full rounded and will imitated form of modern art. On this full form he glazed the color. He was called a "Classicalist" because he took his inspiration from the perfection of Greek form and the wonderful lines of drapery. His work was "sculptural." Art was no longer a decoration but an imitation. Delacroix, a pupil and follower of David, however declared that color was just as much as form was. His color seemed so far beyond any brilliance that had been noted by the lay mind up to that time that the multitude howled—no less that we have howled to-day over Cubism and Futurism. Today any one will admit that there is nothing remotely startling in Delacroix's color.

Meanwhile somebody brought some Japanese prints to Europe, and by the time the elongated faces and to overflowing lines of drapery could be seen as beautiful the "strange" somebody discovered that behind the form the spirit is still shining, and that art was at least a spiritual thing and must dictate to both the form and the color. Another element in this discovery was furnished by the appearance on the art stage of Daguerre's photographs. When the camera finally left no further doubt of the fact that it could represent form still better than a draughtsman could. Art was decidedly called in question.

Illinois College Notes

Mr. E. Bentley Hamilton, '02, president of the General Alumni Association of Illinois College, was a visitor on the campus Thursday. He drove from Peoria especially to attend a conference on business matters relating to the Illinois College Alumni Quarterly. He was also a dinner guest at the home of President and Mrs. Rammelkamp Thursday evening.

The report of Mr. C. Y. Rowe, business manager of the Alumni Quarterly, showed that the financial affairs of that periodical are in good condition. It was decided at the conference with Mr. Hamilton, the president of the Alumni Association, to continue the publication of the Quarterly. In order to insure the permanent success of the enterprise, it should, however, have about 200 more subscribers as well as some additional advertising. An effort will be made by the management of the paper to increase its subscription list as well as the number of its advertisers. Great credit is due to Mr. Rowe, the business manager, and also to Mr. Caldwell, the editor-in-chief, for the success which the magazine has attained in the first year of its existence. The assistance of Mr. Hamilton in the enterprise has also been most valuable.

Mr. Robert C. Lanphier, who spoke before the Rotary club on Friday on the Springfield City Plan is a trustee of Illinois College.

The Illinois College Glee club which has been training faithfully under the direction of Professor Hedge, during the fall will make its initial public appearance at the Illinois College chapel sing next Wednesday morning.

Professor William S. Leavenworth spoke at the meeting of the State High School Conference in Urbana on Friday. Among those who attended from Illinois College were Professor Leavenworth, Dean G. H. Scott and Professor Busey.

Dr. Andrew K. Rule will speak at the Thanksgiving Vesper service at the home of President and Mrs. Rammelkamp on Sunday afternoon. The meeting is under the direction of both the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

The Kiwanis Club was entertained by the College students at the football game Saturday afternoon.

The Agora society entertained the Sigma Phi Epsilon society at a party Friday evening. The Y. M. and Y. W. carnival which is to be held next Friday evening will include in it a minstrel show. Mrs. George Schneider, wife of the mathematics instructor, is training the students for the minstrel show. The Association plans to have many fine side shows and have a big time in general. Friends in the College are cordially invited to attend the carnival and minstrel show. Only a small admission fee will be charged.

Mary McAllister, in "The Yellow Umbrella," Westminster church Sunday night will perform.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Day and daughter Marteen of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vasconcellos of Peoria will spend Thanksgiving with their parents Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vasconcellos on North Main street.

NOTICE
Having sold my business to King & Wright would like a settlement of all accounts by Dec. 10. All accounts not paid by that date additional fee of 10 per cent will be added for collection.

The public is cordially invited to attend the joint recital of Miss Sapio and Miss Horsbrugh on Monday, November 25th, at 8:15. They will offer a program of great variety and interest, commencing with Cesar Franck's magnificent Sonata in A for violin and piano and ending with groups of shorter pieces. Special mention should be made here of the Poeme-nocturne for piano which is the work of a Japanese composer, Kosak Yamada, interesting for having both oriental and western tendencies.

Gwendolynne Schroyer, Frederica Balch, Velma Kitchell will give a program of vocal, violin and piano numbers at the Woman's club of Carrollton on Monday, Nov. 26th. Miss Sapio and Miss Horsbrugh gave a program of piano and violin numbers at the School for the Blind on Wednesday morning.

The Folk-song recital on Dec. 3 by Grace Wood Jess will be somewhat of a novelty in Jacksonville. Mrs. Jess has among her repertoire a collection of early Spanish-California Folk song, also the lovely Bayon song of Lily Strickland. When singing the later, the artist wears a graceful, billowing old gown, once worn by Mrs. Lincoln in the White House. No one can fail to be interested in a program such as Mrs. Jess gives.

MANCHESTER

Mrs. S. A. Wilson and niece, Angie Billings visited relatives in White Hall Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. William Dean still remains very ill.

T. G. Beadles and family of Murfreesboro called on Mrs. Sarah Greenwalt and family Wednesday evening.

At a recent meeting of the Manchester Woman's club the following original poems were read by Mrs. Wm. Arendell:

True Thankfulness.

What have I to be thankful for?
Tell me I pray
I heard those sad words one
Thanksgiving Day
Spoken with such a heart rending cry
Then followed with a long drawn sigh;
And as the speaker before me
stood,
In all her beautiful womanhood,
I thought, alas on that Thanksgiving,
She had lost one true joy of living
For who can live in this beautiful land
Surrounded by much, that is noble and grand,
And be honest with self, and truthfully say—
I've naught to be thankful for today.

And after she had gone along her way
I thought of the words I'd heard her say
Oh, surely her life had been a delusion.

A, then I came to this conclusion:
After some hours of meditation
There's an unwritten law of compensation;
We may be very much lacking in wealth,
But we may be abundantly blessed with health,
Or our chance both may be to us denied.

We may have a true friend to walk by our side
For a friend that to you, has proven true,
Is worth more than silver and gold to you.

Or perhaps it is some one's lot to roam
When they'd give the whole world for the joy of your home;
Or into some life may have come great sorrow
But they who are joyous today,
may meet trouble tomorrow
It is well some times our heart's doors to unlock
Look into life, take an inventory of stock
We have health, home, plenty and friends that we love
And a hope in Saviour who came from above

Oh, perhaps we can't have all we'd like to possess
But think of the ones who have so much less
Now consider a moment
If we our lives could arrange
With whom would we really want to exchange
I think on that point we'll all agree
That you'd rather be you, and I'd rather be me,
And now as we're nearing Thanksgiving Day
I trust each of us can truthfully
say:
I've much to be thankful for this Thanksgiving
If nothing more, just be glad you're living

GRACE WOOD JESS TO GIVE RECITAL DEC. 3

GRACE WOOD JESS

Grace Wood Jess has arrived in Jacksonville for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Wood, and while here, is again going to delight Jacksonville music lovers with one of her artistic and unique folk song recitals. Her recital will be given under the auspices of her Alma Mater, the Illinois Woman's College in Music Hall, Monday evening, Dec. 3 at 8:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Jess comes to us from a coast to coast tour including California, Washington, Oregon and Canada. With her usual cordial enthusiasm, she expresses genuine joy in being able to return to Jacksonville. In a recent interview, she said, "I love deeply California, the home of my adoption, but no friends can ever supplant my friends of Illinois. Everytime I return I realize more thoroughly that climate, eternal sunshine and flowers cannot make the cockles of my heart so warm as the love of old friends. You know Stevenson's lines 'The world is so full of a number of things, we all should be happy as kings and queens.' I'm also realizing more and more the truth of that, my friends, my art, my work, the joy of singing, the inexpressible gratification one receives from a warm, enthusiastic audience, the delight of meeting interesting people of seeing beautiful country—the world is so truly full of a number of things!"

You ask for innumber of things?
I'm always asked how I happened to follow my particular path of art and there is but one answer,
I couldn't help it! As you know, for some time I sang conventionally but always felt handicapped by that very conventionality. I wanted to sing, to express, to depict with voice, hands, feet, body, costume the various emotions. I found the richest material and dramatic possibilities, the loveliest melodies in all field of Folk Songs. About that time
I heard the greatest of all singing actress, Yvette Guilbert. I went to study with her and in my work with her, realized I'd found my sphere.

"I believe many failures result from mistaken spheres, every one has his place, their nitch and experience has taught us to get into our nitch, then enlarge it—space is unbounded, there is plenty of room for everyone—enlarge our own sphere."

"If success has in a measure acted to my efforts, it may be because ears have become somehow laden with conscious creative art and welcome a return to the simple songs from the hearts to the hearts of the people."

TELEPHONE TALKS
Sometimes, when a number is asked for on the telephone, the operator reports that the number called does not answer.
Experience shows the operator is seldom mistaken. In the majority of cases the person called is absent or not near enough to hear the telephone bell. Sometimes he is just slow in answering.
"Don't answer" reports would be greatly reduced if subscribers would be prompt in answering when their bells ring.

PREPARATION FOR CHRISTMAS MAILING
SHOP NOW AND MAIL EARLY FOR EARLY DELIVERY IS SUGGESTION OF POSTAL DEPARTMENT
The Post Offices will make every effort to handle the Christmas mails without congestion and delay, but owing to the enormous volume this can be done only with the cooperation of the public. Compliance with the following suggestions will greatly aid the Post Office and insure the prompt handling of your mail.
Post Office Department First Assistant Postmaster General, Washington, Nov. 9, 1923.
Wrapping and Packing
All parcels must be securely wrapped or packed in order to reach their destination in good condition. In wrapping ordinary parcels strong paper and heavy twine should be used.
Special Packing
Umbrellas, canes, golf sticks should be reinforced their full length by strong strips of wood tightly wrapped and tied to withstand transportation.
Hats—Pack in strong corrugated or fibre boxes. Ordinary pasteboard hat boxes must be crated. Ladies' hats and stiff hats easily damaged should be marked "Fragile."
Shoes—Pack in strong boxes, preferably corrugated cardboard. Wrap with strong paper securely tied with heavy twine.
Cut Flowers—Place in strong suitable boxes of wood, tin or heavy corrugated cardboard. Wrap with tissue to retain moisture.
Candles—Incense in strong outside boxes or containers.
Drawings, paintings, unmounted maps, etc. Pack or wrap in strong material to avoid damage. When not flat, roll around a wooden core and then wrap and tie carefully or place in strong pasteboard tube.
Sharp-pointed or sharp-edged instruments or tools must have points and edges fully guarded to prevent injury to clerks in handling or damage to other mail. Crate suitably or thoroughly wrap so that they cannot cut through the wrapping.
Fragile Articles
Articles easily broken or crushed must be crated or securely wrapped. Use liberal quantities of excelsior, or like material, in around, and between the articles and the outside container.
Glassware, fragile toys, crockery must be packed so as to prevent the escape of particles or pieces if broken in transit.
Cigars—Ordinary boxes of cigars wrapped in paper only will not be accepted. Pack in a manner to prevent damage by shock or jar. Wrap in corrugated pasteboard or similar material. All articles easily broken or damaged must be plainly marked "Fragile."
Perishable Matter
Articles likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation and delivery will not be accepted for mailing. Wrap or pack carefully, according to contents, and plainly mark all such parcels "Perishable." Use special delivery stamps to expedite delivery.
Addresses
Addresses should be complete, with house number and name of street, post office box or rural route number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should be placed in the upper left-hand corner of every piece of mail. If a tag is used, the address and return card should also be written on the wrapper for use if tag is lost, and a copy of the address should be enclosed inside the parcel.
Postage
Postage must be fully prepaid on all mail. Affix the required amount of postage in the upper right-hand corner. Full information concerning postage rates can be obtained at the parcel-post or stamp window.
Limit of Weight and Size
No parcel may be more than 84 inches in length and girth combined. For local delivery and in the first, second and third zones, 70 pounds is the maximum weight; in all other zones, 50 pounds.
Where to Mail Parcels
Uninsured parcels 4 ounces or less in weight may be mailed in street letter or package boxes. At all classified stations and branches, and at such numbered stations as are designated to receive parcels. Parcels weighing over 4 ounces can not be mailed in street boxes, but must be taken to the main office or classified station or branch. Parcels containing meat, food products, cut flowers or other perishable matter should be mailed only at the main office or one of the large classified stations.
When to Mail Christmas Parcels
Christmas gifts addressed to points within one day's travel should be mailed not later than December 21; within two days' travel, not later than December 18; within three days' travel, not later than December 16; for more distant points, not later than December 14. Parcels for local delivery should be mailed not later than December 22. Parcels may be insured.

—BARGAINS— LESS THAN COST
Radiators and hood covers, tires, tubes, tire covers, reliners, boots and patches, piston rings and wrenches, dew cell batteries.
FELDBROCK MOTOR CO.
Corner Court and West Sts.

Please Do Not Open Until Christmas.
Christmas Stamps and Stickers
Christmas stamps or stickers of any character must not be placed on the address side of mail matter. Posters or stickers resembling postage stamps are not permissible on mail matter. In using Christmas stickers they should be so placed as not to seal the parcel.
Matter Not Mailable at Parcel Post Rates
Written matter in the nature of personal correspondence can not be included in parcels.
Miscellaneous printed matter weighing not more than 4 pounds may be mailed as parcel post.
Communications attached to parcels: A letter placed in an envelope, addressed to the parcel, and fully prepaid at the first-class rate, may be tied or otherwise securely attached to the outside of the parcel in such manner as to prevent separation therefrom and not obscure the address on the parcel.
Special Delivery Service
Special delivery service is obtained by affixing a 10-cent special-delivery stamp or 10 cents' worth of ordinary stamps in addition to the regular postage. When ordinary stamps are used, the words "Special Delivery" must be written or printed directly below, but not on the stamps. Special delivery is for speed and not for safety. Valuable mail should be registered or insured.
Insure or Register Valuable Mail
All valuable domestic parcel post mail should be insured. Fees—Value not exceeding $5 3 cents; not exceeding $25, 5 cents; not exceeding $100, 25 cents. Coin, currency, jewelry and other articles of similar value should be sent as sealed first-class registered mail.
Collect on Delivery Service
Parcel-post matter may be sent C. O. D. from one money-order post office to another.
Fees (in addition to regular postage): Value not exceeding $50, 10 cents; not exceeding $100, 2 cents, to be prepaid with stamps affixed. The C. O. D. fee of 10 cents, and up to $100 for a fee of 25 cents, actual value.
Parcels for Foreign Countries Parcels of mailable merchandise may be sent (subject to certain limitations, and conditions) by international parcel post to all foreign countries except Arabia, Spanish Guinea, and Tristan Da Cunha. Parcels weighing 4 pounds 6 ounces or less may be sent to Cuba subject to the domestic parcel post rates and conditions. Foreign parcel-post packages should be mailed at the main office or large classified stations.

Information
For further information on any of the above subjects or concerning any other postal matter, inquire at the proper window; stamp, parcel-post, money order, registry, etc., or see the postmaster or one of his assistants.
By direction of the Postmaster General.

S. W. NICHOLS ENJOYS LIFE IN ARIZONA

Finds Much of Interest in Tucson and Greets Many Old Time Friends—Tucson Is Great Convention City

Tucson, Nov. 22, 1923.

Dear Journal:

While there is no place like home and while I will boast for it above all else, it would be a pity if there were a state without some good attraction, and sunshine is the great asset of Arizona. More and more people are finding it out as there were during September, 267 arrivals here against 432 for all last year. It is fine to be able to sit in the warm sunshine as I am sitting while writing this and drink in the invigorating air.

When we rode to our stopping place from the Southern Pacific station, Leland Henderson, son of the Journal's long time friend, Silas Henderson of Concord precinct, was a motorman on the car in which we rode. He is looking well and seems pleased with his position. While Morgan county sustains a serious loss in the removal of Mr. Henderson's family, it was the health first of the mother that was sought and found.

James Harrison, mayor of Nogales, had a serious experience a short time ago. He was off on a fishing expedition when he wandered in the desert and when a long way from civilization his car broke down. He had with him enough to eat but no water. He was wandering helplessly when fortunately he was discovered by

Some excitement was caused here a few days ago by the discovery of a human skull found by a boy where street grading was being carried on. Dean Cummings thinks it belonged to an Indian who lived a hundred years ago and the appearance indicates that a severe blow was the cause of death.

Roman Catholic circles here are looking forward with great expectations to the installing of the new bishop, Rt. Rev. Daniel Gercke of Philadelphia. Cardinal D. J. Dougherty is to be the great officiating dignitary and he is to sail from Philadelphia with a retinue of 34 people accompanying him. The party will travel by water to New Orleans and then by rail to this place, arriving in time for the ceremonies, Dec. 5th.

What do the readers of the Journal think of a dog which largely sends her master thru the university. Her name is VonSercaynote and Watkins Crockett, Jr., is her owner. He received her as a present from a friend who brought her from Germany. Needless to say she is highly bred and since Crockett came into possession of her she has given birth to 27 puppies. The males selling for a hundred dollars each and the females for fifty.

The people of the state are feeling very complacent over the success of the state fair recently ended at Phoenix. It is said to be the greatest success yet in the way of all sorts of exhibits while the races were also good.

The women of this city are organizing a little theater club from which great things are anticipated. Their ideas are decidedly ambitious. They mean to have a building, supply the stage and elaborate scenery as fast as circumstances will admit and then all, young and old, who have histrionic ambition may have an opportunity to have it gratified.

They mean to have a special committee on plays to read and pass on any that are presented, and to encourage humble would-be authors to display their talent. The stage is to be a model of its kind. The seashore, domestic fireplace, kitchen, garden, office, parlor and in fact, any and every needed scene is to be portrayed on the stage. The outcome will be watched with much interest as many prominent ladies are connected with the enterprise.

I wonder how Jacksonville ninnies would like to get a crack at some of the Watright herd of buffaloes. In 1874 four calves were captured and kept within the reservation and now the herd numbers 8,300. This is too many and the government is going to have two thousand bulls killed. Western hunters, rangers and cowboys will do the work. Some New some tourists and rescued more dead than alive.

Irrigation has recently developed the Santa Cruz Valley located in this, Pima and Santa Cruz counties and the attractive territory is to be populated largely by Mormon immigrants from other localities. Dairying will be their chief industry as there are vast areas of pasture land while irrigation will enable them to grow feed to help out though generally cattle can graze 12 months a year in this locality. In Nogales a large milk condensery is to be erected where condensed and powdered milk will be manufactured and to that end, the product of thousands of cows is already being contracted for and a large industry is anticipated and the reclamation of much land. The Mormons are taught to do all what they undertake and follow their leaders so that they make desirable settlers in many respects as they are industrious and hardy but hardly be as docile as they are. This city has recently lost a valuable citizen, Frank E. Russell, a veritable pioneer. He came here a red headed lineman in the employ of the Western Union but showed what was in him. The place was then lighted with oil lamps, 1882, which of course was not very satisfactory.

In 1895 a light plant was organized, the power being generated with wood bought of the Indians. Russell left the employ of the Western Union and took the position of manager, stoker and general utility man, as the affair was crude and small. By constant efforts he wrought improvements.

At last a modern electric system was installed and the matter of power for street cars was suggested as up to that time the street cars had been hauled by dilapidated mules. Russell suggested electric power and it was adopted with some misgivings but has proved a fine success.

A few miles from this city is a very interesting locality, the pictured rocks. Dean Cummings of the state university thinks the carving was done by a pre-historic race ante-dating Indians in the state at present. The gentleman is a national authority on such matters and thinks it possible the carving is a series of stories or possibly a history of the race. More than 200 symbols are used, but most are shrouded in mystery. It seems probable that the carving was done with a harder stone while some of the work has been adorned with a white pigment which has withstood the elements.

Some of the pictures tell stories while others give directions and instructions, possibly, for other tribesmen. There are symbols that represent the sun-god, spirit of rain, spirit of agriculture and numerous other deities.

There is a movement on foot to have the locality taken over by the state as vandals are already removing some of the stones and using them for building.

York sportsmen offered $500, each to be permitted to take part in the shooting but the authorities refused. Some movie film men wanted Indians to make a grand bow and arrow hunt to be pictured but that was also refused as the bow and arrow of the present day are not reliable and it would be a cruelty to the animals. Cowboys will round them up and marksmen will shoot from cover which will not stampede the rest of the herd. Instead the remaining bulls will circle round the carcass and not try to get away. The reduction of the herd is for the purpose of saving pasture. It is predicted that buffalo meat will be for sale at a low figure.

I had a pleasant call from R. P. Joy this morning. He is looking well and is pleased with his surroundings. He says his wife is also well and their grandson is getting along all right in the university. Mr. Joy says Prof. Shaw had a lot of choice English walnuts grafted on native walnuts and many of them are growing. He also set out a good number of grape vines, some of which promise well. The gentleman has quite a ranch in the romantic stronghold and spends pleasant vacations there with his wife and son.

I am attending the Presbyterian church and Sunday school this season. In the forenoon they worship in the opera house as their building is too small to accommodate the congregations and a fine pipe organ is there to be used. They are gathering money for a new building and have the ground secured for the purpose.

I have met Earl Epler and he looks well and gives a good account of his wife and Mrs. Rexroat. He said he would come around some day and take me to ride and I heartily seconded the motion.

This is quite a convention city and attracts many gatherings of various organizations. The place is gay with flags and banners welcoming the Elks in their state gathering and they are having a grand time with circuses, shows of various kinds with incidentally a little business mixed in. The boys are surely enjoying themselves and the city is glad to have them here.

Another great affair is the convention of Kiwanis clubs which is indeed great. Kiwanis entertainments are not enough for them so they must have a thrill and they had one indeed. This is what appeared in the morning paper:

"Bob Neuss, deputy sheriff, was taken to St. Mary's hospital believed to be seriously wounded and Wm. K. Balr of El Paso, District Kiwanis governor, was placed under arrest and confined in the county jail without bond, following a shooting at Clearwater about 5:30 last night."

Joseph Ronstadt, prominent Kiwanian, was also arrested and placed in jail when a loaded pistol was found on him. The shooting followed a scuffle which took place at Clearwater where the two men were engaged in an altercation. Harold Bell Wright, the noted author, stood guard at the door while the police were being summoned.

Neuss went out with blood streaming down his leg and at was wonderfully realistic. The men were kept in jail all night and liberated this morning while Neuss had considerable difficulty in washing off the red ink which he had displayed on his body. The whole thing was a play for a crowd craving excitement and they surely had it.

Harold Bell Wright, the noted author seems to have fallen in love with this locality as he has built a $35,000 residence in a romantic situation and is prepared to enjoy a quiet life.

"I have just finished a treatment of your wonderful remedy and can say it has done wonders for me already. For the past five years I have been unable to eat any but the lightest food and that but sparingly, as any food caused me to bloat with gas. I was reduced to a skeleton of 90 pounds and was on the road to the boneyard. A friend in Birmingham sent me a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I took, and I am sure it will entirely cure me of my trouble, judging from what it brought from me and the way I feel." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists. Adv.

Hair Glory

One minute a day gave it to me
By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is my greatest glory. It grows finer every year. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray. Mine is a grandmother's age, yet countless girls who see me on the stage and elsewhere, envy my luxuriant hair.

So with mother. She died at the age of 57 with hair like mine today. So with many friends who use my method. They have beautiful hair, and it does not lose its color.

I am convinced that millions, in my way, can multiply the beauty of their hair. And I have arranged to bring that method to them.

A French Formula

My mother and I, many years ago, found this formula in France. It had been developed by experts whose whole lives had been devoted to hair study.

One factor in it combats hardened oil and dandruff, the great enemies of hair. They stifle the hair roots, check hair growth, choke the supply of pigment which gives hair its color.

Other factors stimulate and fertilize the scalp. Hair thrives on such a scalp, as flowers will thrive in a clean and well kept garden.

One Minute a Day

I call this formula my Hair Youth. I apply it daily with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. Just enough to dampen the scalp. It takes but a moment, and this method does not muss the hair.

You have never known anything so effective, yet it is harmless. It does not affect the hair's color, natural or artificial. Its whole effect is on the scalp and the roots which lie therein.

Haid Youth is sold under guarantee. If the first bottle fails to delight you, your dealer will return its price. So I ask you to try it at my risk. Learn what it does for your hair. Let it do what it did for me and mine, and you will reap rich rewards.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth is supplied by all druggists and toilet counters. Price, 50c and $1 with eye dropper. Also my Youth Cream, with two fruits in it. My Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. And my White Youth Clay—the last word in facial clay. My Beauty Book comes with each.

My Hair Youth will lead you to want my other helps. I think. And they are all new at your call. Edna Wallace Hopper. Business Address, Waukesha, Wis.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

If Not Turkey---

Sister Mary Suggests Other "Pieces de Resistance"

In some parts of New England chicken pie ran a close second to turkey for Thanksgiving dinner in the old days. Often both turkey and chicken pie were served at the same dinner. This seems out of place to us, but why not serve chicken pie in place of turkey?

While turkey is more or less traditional with Thanksgiving, any "extra" roast or meat with an abundance of vegetables makes a satisfactory dinner.

A fresh ham, boned and stuffed, is a delicious substitute for turkey, and no one will sigh for the absent bird.

"Very good thing is weal pie, when you know the lady as made it," approved Mr. Weller. So why not serve a veal and ham pie instead of turkey?

Then there is crown of lamb or pork quite compatible with a gala day, and of course roast goose or duck or guinea hen. However, I prefer these for Christmas or New Year's dinner. Keep the Thanksgiving dinner simple and old-fashioned in its menu, if you would express the original spirit of the day.

Chicken Pie

Two year old chickens, 1 small onion, 2 sprigs parsley, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-2 teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 cup cream, 2 tablespoons butter, short crust, 4 hard moiled eggs, (optional), 1-2 pound mushrooms.

Clean and disjoint chickens. Put in a kettle with onion, parsley and boiling water to completely cover. Simmer until tender, about one hour. When chicken has cooked half an hour add salt and pepper. Remove from broth when tender and strain stock. There should be 4 cups. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add broth and cream, stirring constantly.

Line a deep broad pan with short-biscuit dough rolled three-eighths of an inch thick. Arrange chicken and hard boiled eggs cut in slices and mushrooms in the pan. Do not use the wings, backbones or necks in the pie. The chicken and gravy should be cool. Add gravy to cover. Fit top crust over pie, pinch edges together and bake half an hour in a hot oven.

If a large pan that has no table rack is used, pin a neatly folded napkin around the pan before sending to the table.

The crust is made as follows:

Chicken Pie Crust

Four cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 cup butter, and lard, mixed, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 egg yolk, water to make a soft dough.

Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Rub in shortening with tips of fingers. Beat yolk and egg slightly with 1-2 cup water and cut into flour mix

Fur collars for Ladies' coats $8 to $25. Mrs. Abbott, the Furrier.

IN MEMORY OF VIVIAN VIEIRA

Vivian, Our loving star has left us, She has gone on before, She has gone to sing with the angels On that bright and beautiful shore

Our heavenly father took her Up to her heavenly home, To dwell with the angels and take her place at the throne

She has gone and we shall miss her, Gone for evermore, But some day we shall be with her, On that bright and beautiful shore.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Mr. Wolfe, who is with the American Relief Expedition in Russia, known as the Hoover Organization, spoke to the students and faculty Friday morning and again Friday evening. He also addressed one of the economic classes at 11:30 on European Economic Conditions. Mr. Wolfe spent several years in Europe and in the Near East in relief work and is in the position to know some of the tragedies that have been taking place, especially among the children and students. His purpose in speaking yesterday was to arouse interest in the Student Friendship Fund, which is being raised by students from all parts of the world to help use their funds in stricken Europe.

The faculty gave a delightful tea to the local Alumnae association Monday afternoon from 3 to 5:30. Quite a number of the alumnae and former students from the city and surrounding country were in attendance.

The Champaign-Urbana branch of the Alumnae association had a very successful meeting in the southern tea room Friday evening.

The High School Conference which is being held in thwain cities during the last three days of the week made it possible for quite a number of the alumnae and former students to attend. Mrs. Mary LaTeer Alexander is president and was in charge of the reunion.

The local branch of the Alumnae association held a successful market Wednesday afternoon at Furry's grocery store. About $30 was cleared.

Mrs. Austin spent Saturday attending the Dean's Conference in Deatur. This is a very important and valuable meeting and is attended by deans of the leading colleges of Illinois.

Thanksgiving will be celebrated in a quiet way at the college this year. The students will continue the annual custom of providing bounteous dinners for a number of unfortunate families. This work is done in connection with the Social Service League in Jacksonville. The program for Thanksgiving Day will be as follows: In the morning the championship games of the hockey season will be played to decide the winners of the school series. The contest will be completed by 10 o'clock, so as to enable both students and faculty to attend the Thanksgiving church service. At 1 o'clock the annual Thanksgiving Banquet will be enjoyed; following this will be given the toasts as already published; in the evening a special program by the Dramatic club will be presented. A full description of their share of the program will be announced later.

The annual Red Cross roll call will be held at the college the week of November 26. A great many of the students keep their membership in their local community, but some prefer to have their Red Cross membership in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Grace Wood Jess was in the city yesterday planning her program that is to be given on December 3 for the benefit of the Endowment fund. Mrs. Jess is a great favorite in Jacksonville and her friends will be glad to know that her program is nearly ready for publication. Mrs. Jess wrote Dr. Harker the latter part of July that she would give this concert for her contribution to the Endowment Fund, and is now preparing to make good her promise.

Much interest has been aroused because of the election of Miss Ruth Dulpin to the Pi Beta Capa of the University of Illinois. Miss Dulpin was a member of the class of 1921, but was obliged to drop out of school and teach, later taking up her work at the University of Illinois, where her strong scholarship has been recognized in this splendid manner.

ESTAQUE NEWS AGENCY UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

C. H. Randolph of Havana, Ill., has just become the owner of the news agency which was formerly conducted by the late Joseph Estaque on West Morgan street. Mr. Randolph has already taken possession of the property and is making arrangements to bring his family here.

It is the intention of the new owner to develop the agency in a wholesale way and he expects to have for sale various publications for which there is a demand. He has for a number of years been connected with news agencies in various cities and is thoroughly experienced in the business.

ZION LADIES AID IN REGULAR SESSION

Ladies Met at Home of Mrs. Andrew Reid for Interesting Program—Other Zion Neighborhood News.

The Ladies' Aid of Zion M. E. church met recently at the home of Mrs. Andrew Reid, when the following program was carried out:

Song—Aid members.
Prayer—Mrs. James Bracewell.
Paper—Making Over Thanksgiving—Mrs. Henry Ozburn.
Roll Call was answered by clippings from the paper pertaining to Thanksgiving.

After the program a social time was enjoyed by those present. Before the departing hour the hostess served dainty refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hart and children took Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ward of Murrayville.

The Ladies' Aid of Zion church will hold a market in the city hall at Murrayville, Tuesday, November 27th.

Gerald Langdon of Jacksonville spent the week end with home folks.

Mrs. William Hart and children spent from Friday until Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Mary Gibson of Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall and family were Sunday guests of J. B. Hall and wife of Murrayville.

Mrs. Henry Ozburn, son Benjamin and daughter Eva were Jacksonville shoppers Tuesday.

Miss Effa Claridy spent one evening last week with Miss Maude Clayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Osborne of Physical Health means Beauty!

HEALTH and beauty go hand in hand. Where the system is run down—the face drawn and haggard—the body limp and lifeless—beauty is missing. Looks of pity supplant those that might have been gazes of admiration.

Restore your health and beauty will take care of herself. S. S. S.—the rich blood builder—rekindles the spark of health and lights the blaze of beauty by building red blood cells. The nerve power of your system finds life in these very blood cells. Build more red blood cells and your nerve power will increase. S. S. S. builds them. Rich blood will tingle through your system. That lost charm will return. Your entire system will be repaired. You will be ready to cope with the impurities and blemishes that handicap beauty.

As physical health means beauty, so, too, does S. S. S. mean beauty. For S. S. S. means systems that are free from impurities—pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema, rheumatism. S. S. S. and good health go hand in hand.

S. S. S. is made of pure vegetable ingredients. It is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

S.S.S. Makes You Feel Like Yourself Again

Jacksonville were visitors on Route 2, Monday afternoon.

Chester and Walter Dobson, Glenn Stadel and Wm. Hart were coon hunting Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Stadel and son attended the funeral of Mr. Stadel's aunt Mrs. Ed Ator at Litchberry one day last week.

Miss Marie Cortfield was a Saturday shopper here from Chapin.

JEWETT SIX PAIGE BUILT

$550 Cash, Balance Monthly Buys This Jewett

Again Jewett Proves Its Supremacy Over Higher Priced Cars

WE have repeatedly made the statement that Jewett Six excels all other cars except the big Paige, in performance. At a recent test held by the officials of Lincoln Park, Detroit, to select police cars, Jewett made the following record:

Three-tenths Mile From Standing Start				One-half Mile From Standing Start
Finish	Car	Time	Finish	Car	Time	Finish	Car	Time
1	Paige	25 seconds	1	Paige	37 seconds	1	Paige	37 seconds
2	Jewett Six	25.2 seconds	2	Jewett Six	37.1 seconds	2	Jewett Six	37.1 seconds
3	A $1750 Six	26.9 seconds	3	A $1425 Six	38.4 seconds	3	A $1425 Six	38.4 seconds
4	A $1485 Six	27 seconds	4	A $1750 Six	39.8 seconds	4	A $1750 Six	39.8 seconds
4 1/2 tie	A $1425 Six	27 seconds	5	A $1485 Six	40.6 seconds	5	A $1485 Six	40.6 seconds
6	A $1350 Six	27.6 seconds	6	A $1350 Six	42 seconds	6	A $1350 Six	42 seconds
7	A $1750 Six	29.3 seconds	7	A $1485 Six	42.3 seconds	7	A $1485 Six	42.3 seconds
8	A $1295 Six	30.2 seconds	8 1/2 tie	A $1045 Four	44 seconds	8 1/2 tie	A $1045 Four	44 seconds
9	A $1175 Four	34 seconds	9 tie	A $1295 Six	44 seconds	9 tie	A $1295 Six	44 seconds
			10	A $1350 Six	47.8 seconds	10	A $1350 Six	47.8 seconds
			11	A $1175 Four	49.4 seconds	11	A $1175 Four	49.4 seconds

And Jewett Six costs but $1065, f.o.b. Detroit! Think of a car at that price, that out-performs cars costing over $1700! Think of the joy that over 60,000 Jewett Six owners are experiencing in their everyday use of their Jewetts. Jewett's power is equaled by its freedom from trouble.

To handle its tremendous 50 horsepower, Jewett must be strong and rugged. It is. It weighs 2805 pounds. It has Paige-Timken axles front and rear. All-steel universal joints. Ball-bearing steering spindles. 6-inch-deep frame.

The Lincoln Park test wasn't the first time Jewett Six performed itself into the realm of higher priced cars. It has done so consistently since its first appearance. Sales of Jewett are made daily to buyers who thought they had to pay several hundred dollars more to get a real car.

Prove this to yourself. If you want performance, rugged strength, and a reputation for exacting reliability—drive Jewett Six yourself. Call us, any time.

shares.
Twenty industrials averaged 92.60; net gain .50.
High 1923: 105.38; low
87.76.
Twenty railroads averaged 83.93; net loss .09.
High 1923: 90.51; low
79.53.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Speculators for the advance again assumed control of the stock market in today's brief session moving the general list to higher ground by a series of bullish demonstrations in the oil, tires, tobacco, sugars and specialties.
Sales exceeded the half million mark despite the absence of a number of traders who went to Cambridge for the Yale-Harvard football game.

Oil shares, which have been heavily bought lately on speculative expectation of improvement in the industry because of the steady decrease in crude production were lifted up by the brisk demand for Sinclair, Producers and Refiners, Cosden and Phillips, all of which closed a point or more higher. The strong spots in the sugar group which has been benefitted by the higher prices for the refined product, were American Refining, American Beet and Cuba cane preferred up 1 to 2 1/2 points.

Schulte led the active tobacco with a gain of nearly two points to 105 1/2 a new 1923 high.
United States Steel, Baldwin,
American Can and Studebaker generally recognized as the pivotal shares improved fractionally.
Maxwell Motors A advanced nearly two points on a revival of reports of its merger with its better, but forfeited all its gain before the close.

United States cast iron pipe which has been making a belated response to the resumption of dividends on the common stock jumped 31 points to 51, also a new 1923 top. Davison Chemical closed more than four points higher at 67 1/2.
All of the active United States government bonds advanced moderately.

Total bond sales par value $5,
568,000.

CASH WHEAT MARKET

wheat prices at the finish today were 3¢ better. Premiums and discounts were unchanged on red, yellow, hard and spring grades,
with hard wheat unchanged to 1¢ better. Shipping sales here were 20,000 bushels. The seaboard said vessel room had been taken for 30 loads of wheat to Europe and that there were sales of 10, 000 barrels of flour to Germany yesterday.

Cash corn market was weak and prices finished 1 to 5¢ lower.
Shipping sales here were 80,000

SPENDTHRIFT CITIES

The above appears as the heading of an editorial in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post. This is the promised editorial treatment of Jacksonville and its triumphs in financing in the past five years, which Fred High stated the Post would publish. The article may speak for itself, and its effect in securing publicity for Jacksonville cannot be over-estimated. It reads as follows:

It is said that five years ago a telegraph company declined an official telegram proffered by the mayor of Jacksonville, Illinois, on the ground that the city's credit was not good for the sixty cents which was the cost of the message. Political mismanagement, free spending and free borrowing had put the town flat on its back. Recently the same town carried thru a drive for two hundred thousand dollars for a new hotel, is now spending ten thousand dollars on a public swimming pool, and has been chosen as the site for the home offices of a company doing a national business of some two million dollars.

In five years the citizens succeeded in lifting the town by its own boot straps. By determination to understand their home-difficulties and to pull together in wiping out the town debt, by jointly returning the public business just as they were running their private businesses, they made Jacksonville, Illinois, a going concern.

There is no miracle here, though the case of Jacksonville is exceptional in the extremity of its circumstances and in the hearty accord with which its citizens worked to bring about a cure. The case, however, does or should possess some interest for the country at large, in view of the developing tendency of neighborhoods generally to regard public credit as a bottomless purse.

Judged by the readiness with which they sell their bond issues upon the basis of a comparatively low yield, the credit rating of American towns, counties and states is high. The debt made in the incomes of individuals and corporations to which the upper brackets of the income tax apply has had a good deal to do with this market condition, but it is also a fact that only rarely has a state or municipal government found it hard to borrow money or much more difficult to pay its bills when due. This is not saying fundamentally the financial position of such local governments is always sound or even satisfying to those who pay the taxes and look for a fair return in the form of clean, well-lighted streets, effective police and fire protection, and the other things which good government is supposed to furnish. Mighty few taxpayers, at any rate when speaking strictly among themselves, would say that their town, county or state as a business proposition, was run in a way to encourage investment in its paper if the same tests were applied to that paper which usually are applied by careful investors to bonds of private corporations in the market for money.

If the average citizen were asked to analyze a balance sheet of his town and say just how it stands in assets and liabilities on the basis of a settlement such as a private concern employs in its calculations, he would have to confess himself as being in the dark.

Failing action at Washington which will limit or forbid Federal tax exemption of the bonds of commonwealths and their divisions, the wholesale borrowing now going on can have but one end. A day of settlement must come for every one of these borrowers, and the sooner the taxpayer, who must finally meet that settlement, makes himself acquainted with the figures of what he owes and of what he has in mind to meet the bill by the time it comes due, the less likely he will be to approve of the easy way of meeting existing obligations and financing public improvements by voting for wholesale bond issues which too often rest upon some politician's conception of what the assets of the concern will be around about the time the loan falls due.

In public financing, borrowing upon the basis of the future growth of a neighborhood and the prospective increased value of already settled sections is unavoidable, and within reasonable limits is good financing, but it is also the sort of thing which invites abuse; and in the hands of those who are chiefly interested in the concern because of what they get out of it in the form of salaries and of opportunity for making something on the side it is almost sure to be abused. With these, settlement day is always tomorrow, and very much the same casual view determines the attitude of the average taxpayer. If then the financing of municipalities and states is to be held within the bounds of good business, the taxpayer on his part must realize that borrowing by his town beyond that point which he would fix for the same borrowing if he were running the concern as a private enterprise is taking unjustified risks with his own pocketbook; and to determine just where the danger point is he must make himself acquainted with at least the totals and the nature of his town's assets and liabilities and the time which the obligations have to run. Certainly this is within his graps and is worth while. Just as certainly it involves less personal inconvenience than the task of wholesale housecleaning in eventualities, which is the other method and the one forced upon Jacksonville, Ill., when it found itself five years ago flat on its back. There the citizens took hold of the government and served in office without pay because there was no money with which to pay them.

WHITE HALL MAN IS CRITICALLY ILL
White Hall, Nov. 24.—White Hall has not made advancement in recent years in the poultry business and the poultry club no longer functions. C. E. Dodgson raises pure bred Reds, and will participate in the shows at Belleville and Alton. Ward Hall continues to make a showing in the state egg-laying contests. One of the best items concerning the value of poultry culture in the market varieties comes from Richmond, Va., where W. S. Miller, a son-in-law of Mrs. John Peters, carried last winter between 325 and 350 hens which produced a total revenue of $1,895.12 at a feed cost of $818.21, leaving net returns of $1,076.91.

They reside on a seven-acre tract, on which they raise most of the feed for their chickens besides raising other stuff.

H. H. DeGrote of west of the city was a business caller in the city Saturday.

Miss Emma Mortimer was a local shopper from Woodson Saturday.

White Hall, Nov. 24.—Frank Culbertson, member of one of the old and prominent White Hall families is in a critical condition in his home on Lincoln street as the result of a stroke of paralysis.

Mrs. T. Z. Bell was in the city from Saldors on Saturday.
